ADAMS TRIAL OPENS MONDAY

LEGISLATURE MET IN SPECIAL SESSION

SIX MONTHS SENTENCE SINCLAIR AFFIRMED

TEXAS LEGISLATORS ASSEMBLE FOR NEW SPECIAL SESSION

APPROPRIATION BILLS ANF TAX MEASURES BE CONSIDERED BY SOLONS

AUSTIN, June 3. (AP)—The second called session of the 41st legislature convened at noon. The house had a bare quorum in attendance, 103 members registering present, but others arrived soon afterwards. Twenty-eight of the 31 senators were here.

Organization over, both houses adopted resolutions commending Reg L. Robbins and James Kelly, pilots of the monoplane Fort Worth, holders of the world record for endurance flight, and inviting them to appear before the legislature to receive from Governor Moody commissions as lieutenant colonels on his personal staff.

Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubdock was elected president pro tem of the senate by unanimous vote.

Bills on many subjects were introduced. In the senate, Senators Thomas B. Love of Dallas and Margie Neal of Carthage proposed repeal of the evidence clause of the search and seizure law and amendments to make search warrants issue on knowledge and belief and instead of affidavit.

In the house Rep. Leonard Tillotson of Sealy, offered his bill imposing a four cent excise tax on gasoline and another fixing a public policy in the construction and maintenance of highways.

AUSTIN, June 3.—(AP)—For the third time, the forty-first legislature was assembling today.

Although the membership was slow in getting in, Speaker W. S. Barron expressed confidence there would be a quorum when his gavel brings the second special session to order at noon.

Lieut. Goveror Barry Miller said he would easily have a quorum of the thirty-one members of the senate.

Meeting on a legal holiday—Jefferson Davis birthday anniversary—the legislature found all other departments of government closed.

Both houses planned merely to

HOUSTON YOUTH IS FOUND TO BE DEAD FROM STRANGULATION

HOUSTON, June 3.—(AP)— Max Lessner, 16, was dead today after a drinking party to celebrate the return of Max's brother, Joe, from the navy.

Max was strangled to death, authorities investigating the boy's death held, and none of Max's five companions could explain the manner in which the boy was killed. Finger prints were plainly visible on the youth's neck.

Max had been dead four or five hours when his frightened companions rushed him to a hospital about daylight today.

"We thought Max was asleep," Joe said. "And all the time we were singing and riding around, he was dead. Who could have done it?"

Two of Max's companions had black eyes today. They said they were received in a hitting contest. Joe Lessner said the boys started drinking beer in the afternoon, rode in an automobile and engaged in boxing. Meanwhile, Max fell asleep.

"After we had boxed we decided to wake Max up and found we couldn't," Joe continued. "I noticed that his arm was over his head in a queer manner. It was cold and stiff."

The boys made statements, but none was arrested.

Dallas Milk Plant Is Robbed Monday

DALLAS, June 3.—(AP)—Two men today robbed the Dallas Milk company's plant of $1,800.

They entered the plant in early morning hours, forced two employes into a cooling vault and took the money from a safe. A number of employes at work on another floor were unaware of the robbery until it had been consummated.

RESIDENTS NEAR MOUTHS OF TEXAS STREAMS WATCH CREST OF FLOOD MONDAY

HOUSTON, June 3.—(AP)—Residents near the mouth of 40 Texas streams today watched the crest of flood waters pass or awaited the passage tomorrow or Wednesday. The spacious lowlands along the gulf were expected to prevent serious damage.

Houston worked to remove flood wreckage as Buffalo Bayou, the stream that caused the flood here, returned to its banks at almost all points. The most serious menace the city faced, low water pressure due to flooding of the central pumping plant, will vanish tomorrow, according to city officials who said the plant would resume operations then.

Wallisville, near the mouth of the Trinity, was covered with two to five feet of water yesterday, and higher water was not expected unless winds should drive a tide over the town from Galveston bay.

The body of Arthur Araldona, 19, messenger boy, was recovered in a basement of a downtown building where it was washed Friday night. A search progressed for other possible victims.

One highway was open into Beaumont, a road through Orange. Waters at Beaumont were going down slowly. Train service into the city improved.

Fort Bend and Brazoria counties stoically awaited the flood. Highlands became refugee camps as lowlands residents moved their movable chattles to safety.

The Gulf of Mexico was expected to receive the last of the flood crests the middle of the week.

Menace Lessened

An abatement in the menace for the coastal counties was noted in all rivers except the Brazos. At Richmond, the Brazos rose slowly. The crest was expected tomorrow. Freeport at the mouth of the Brazos was isolated as far as the highways were concerned.

Most of the railway lines out of Houston were again open. The Brazos was falling near Chapel Hill on the Austin branch of the Southern Pacific. This line had been tied up since Friday night. Trains were not running on the Victoria division of the Southern Pacific because of high water in the Colorado bottoms near Wharton.

Communication was restored with the Tgi-Vities area, Goose Creek. Pelley and Baytown after that district had been isolated except by plane for two days.

Service on the Souston East and West Texas, disrupted for most of last week, was resumed, as that on the main line Southern Pacific to Beaumont.

All public utilities here including the transportation companies were operating on schedule today.

The ship channel was blocked while tugs labored to straighten out the American tanker, Cedarhurst, which broke away from a Baytown pier late Friday after the swift current had caused the lines holding the tanker to part.

The ship was lodged crosswise of the channel about a mile below Baytown. The channel had been blocked since late yesterday. Agents for the tanker said the channel would be cleared this afternoon.

HOUSTON POLICE SEEK NEGROES WHO ASSAULTED WHITES

YOUNG WHITE WOMAN CRIMINALLY ASSAULTED SUNDAY NIGHT

HOUSTON, June 3. (AP)—A 25-year-old girl was in a hospital in a serious condition today, and a wide search was being made for two negroes who attacked the girl and her male companion here last night while they sat in an automobile on Polk avenue. The girl was in such a serious condition that an operation was performed to save her life.

Her companion, H. S. Skinner, 25, also was at the hospital suffering from several lacerations about the head received when he tried to protect the girl. He said he was struck with a pistol. Both the man and the girl were bound and gagged during the attack.

The negroes, after robbing Skinner of $3.50 and attacking the girl, drove away in Skinner's automobile. It had not been located this morning. A motorist heard cries from Skinner and the girl and called police.

Acocrding to the story told police by Skinner, the attack took place about 9 o'clock last night.

Had Ben to Church.

"We went to church Sunday night," Skinner said. "After the services we drove out Polk avenue to a point back of the Hughes Tool company and parked the car to talk awhile. We had not been there five minutes when two negroes walked up. Both holding pictols. They also had flashlights. They forced up to get out of the machine and go with them into the woods about a block from where the car was parked.

"In the woods, I started to put up a fight, and one of the negroes struck we several times on the head, stunning me. When I came to my senses, I was bound and gagged. The negroes had gone.

"I struggled and got to my feet and found the girl bound and gagged and moaning. We both arose to our feet, and the negroes came rushing back and struck we several times again. Then they ran to the road.

"We hobbled and rolled in the woods until we got to the paved street. My car was gone. We shouted at passing cars until one man finally stopped, saw our plight and then drove on without getting out. He said he would call police. He acted as if he was too scared to stop and untie us."

MOUNT VESUVIUS BURSTS OUT WITH STREAM OF LAVA

NAPLES, Italy, June 3.—(AP)—Mount Vesuvius, scourge of the rich Neapolitan country side, burst suddenly into eruption today.

The eruption occurred suddenly on the southeast side of the crater at the base of a small cone. A stream of molten lava poured out in the direction of Pompeii, which Vesuvius wiped out 1850 years ago.

The lava stream was nearly 40 feet wide and described as copious and lively. No danger was forseen for new dwellings or the ancient excavated city of Pompeii since the laval current thrown from the great crater was pouring into 'hell volley." The interior eruptive cone maintained its normal activity.

Peru Flyers Hop From New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, June 3.—(AP)—Peru's good will fliers, en route from Washington to Lima, took off from Callendar airport here at 5:05 a. m., central standard time in their Bellanca cabin monoplane on a non-stop flight to Mexico City.

Captain Carlos Pinillos, navigator, said he expected to complete the Mexico City trip within twelve hour. Lieut. Carlos Zegarra is pilot.

Case of Martin Be Presented To Grand Jury

EL PASO, June 3.—(AP)—The case of Jose Marias Marin, 64, Spaniard, charged with two murders here Saturday, will be presented to the grand jury tomorrow.

Marin was charged with shooting to death Frank J. Lyons and H. D. Oppenheimer in their law office as the climax to legal and personal difficulties over a mine.

Marin, former Chihuahua mine owner, sued the attorneys about a year ago for $100,000 which he claimed they owed him as his share of the development of his mine. He had hired them for the work. The case was lost.

Would Authorize Labor Commission

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Creation of a Mexican border labor commission to conduct an investigation into problems of securing adequate labor for farms and ranches in border states would be authorized under a bill introduced today by Representative Hudspeth, Texas.

Mr. Hudspeth also introduced a bill to authorize the expenditure of $100,000 for the purchase of 20,000 acres of land in Jeff Davis, Brewster, Presidio, Pecos, Culberson, and Hudspeth counties in Texas, for a national park,

OIL MAGNATE MUST SERVE ADDITIONAL TIME IN PRISON

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS SIX MONTHS JAIL TERM, JURY SHADOWING

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—The sentences imposed upon Harry F. Sinclair, Henry Mason Day, and W. Sherman Burns for having the Fall-Sinclair Teapot Dome jury shadowed, were upheld today by the supreme court but the fifteen-day sentence on William J. Burns was disapproved.

Sinclair had been sentenced to six months in jail for contempt; Henry Mason Day, one of his associates, to four months, and William J. Burns fifteen days. W. Sherman Burns, son of William J. Burns, was fined $1,000.

Already in Jail.

Sinclair is serving a three months sentence in the District of Columbia jail for contempt of the senate. He refused to answer questions before the senate oil committee in connection with the oil investigation.

In the case decided today the government charged that Sinclair, through Day, had employed the Burns detectives to shadow the jury. Sinclair contended the government had failed to produce evidence showing the shadowing had obstructed the trial, and all defendants joined in an appeal.

The court of appeals of the District of Columbia called on the supreme court for instructions on points of law and Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, asked the highest court to have the whole controversy sent to it. Such an order was issued, and the supreme court today disposed of the whole controversy, instead of merely answering questions and sending the case back for action by the court of appeals..

Opinion Unanimous.

Justice McReynolds delivered the opinion of the court which was unanimous except that Justice Stone, who was attorney general during some of the oil lease litigation, took no part.

Pointing out that the defense contended the evidence failed to show the detectives had established contact with any of the jurors, the opinion said "we cannot accept this view."

It would destroy the power of the courts adequately to protect themselves—to enforce their rights of self preservation, it continued. "Suppose, for example, some litigant should endeavor to shoot a juror while sitting in the box during progress of the case. He might escape punishment for contempt if some quick witted attendant quietly thwarted the effort and kept the circumstances secret until the trial ended."

Will Serve Sentence.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Leo A. Rover, United States attorney who prosecuted Sinclair, said the oil man would start serving the six months sentence for criminal contempt as soon as he completed the present three months sentence for refusing to answer questions asked by the senate committee.

NEGRO SHRINERS WIN RIGHT TO USE NAME IN AMERICA

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—The negro organization known as the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, was given free rein under a supreme court decision today to continue the use of its name and insignia.

White Shriners in Texas had objected to the activities of the negro organization and to its insignia. They won in the lower courts.

Justice Van Devanter in deli[illegible]ering the opinion, to which no d[illegible]sent was announced, said the wh[illegible] Shriners by their failure to obj[illegible] within a reasonable time, had l[illegible] their right to act.

He ruled that the acquiesen[illegible] of the white Shriners had result[illegible] in the negro Shriners building [illegible] a large organization before t[illegible] Texas suit was brought, and t[illegible] it now was too late to object.

Auto Classic Ends Fatally for One Driver

The 500-mile International Speedway classic at Indianapolis, Ind., brought added fame to Ray Keech, the victor in the grueling grind, but death to Billy Spence, of California, who drove a Duesenberg Special, car No. 10 (arrow). Spence overturned at Death turn, the most dangerous spot on the track. The time for the winner was 5:07:25:42, for an average of 96.583 miles per hour, which did not threaten any speed record for the event.

"UNWRITTEN LAW" TO BE DEFENSE OF AMARILLO WOMAN

MRS. LEVI P. STALWORTH FACES TRIAL FOR KILLING WOMAN RECENTLY

AMAARILLO, June 2.—(AP)— Two jurors had been selected shortly after noon today in the trial of Mrs. Levi P. Stallworth, charged with murder in the death of Mrs. Grace Morrison here.

Twenty-five of the 200 veniremen had been examined, the first man questioned having been chosen.

AMARILLO, Tex., June 3.—(AP)—Whether a woman may protect her home under the unwriten law was an issue that faced a special venire of 200 men being examined here today for jury service in the trial of Mrs. Levi P. Stallworth, Plainview, Texas, charged with the slaying of Mrs. Grace Morrison, also of Plainview, who was shot to death in front of an Amarillo hotel on May 13.

States attorneys are asking prospective jurors if they understand the meaning of the common parlance, "unwritten law," and if they believe a wife has the right to kill another woman who had been intimate with her husband. Defense counsel made vigorous protests to this line of questioning, and asked for the court stenographer so their exceptions might be properly taken.

"I killed her because she was running around with my husband," Mrs. Stallworth said after the shooting. Her defense, it was believed, will be based solely upon the unwritten law.

Mrs. E. M. Stallworth, Fort Worth, mother-in-law of the woman on trial, faces a similar charge for her part in the homicide.

Mrs. Morrison, wife of a prominent Plainview contractor, was accosted by the Stallworth women as she left a rooming house here the night of May 13. She was shot to death as she attempted to escape inside a hotel about a block from the rooming house.

Mrs. Stallworth is the mother of three children. Three law firms have been employed to represent her.

LINDBERGH HONEYMOONING ABOARD YACHT ACCORDING TO MARINER AT BLOCK ISLAND

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 3.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride, who was Miss Anne Morrow, went to sea for their honeymoon. In a new 38-foot motor boat, the Mouette, they have been cruising in Long Island sound, since their marriage at Englewood, N. J., a week ago, probably tying up at night in some quiet harbor along the Long Island shore each night.

Just at present it is believed the Mouette is off the tip of Long Island heading for Boston in a leisurely way.

Admits Identity.

On Saturday afternoon, a new boat with a tall, light haired young man at the wheel, put in at Block Island for gas and oil, and Captain Louis Rounds of the Elizabeth Ann gave him a helping hand to tie up. In the pilot house there was an exchange of seafaring and other talk, and the yatchman admitted to Captain Rounds that he was the colonel.

The Mouette was supplied with necessaries, and Colonel Lindbergh took on a barrel of water as well. After a short stay he left for a cross sound trip which would have brought the craft to Montauk point.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh eluded everybody a week ago this afternoon when they departed from the home of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow at Englewood. Since then the air and the land have been searched for the honeymooners.

Could Hide for Days.

The yachtman told Captain Rounds and his mate, Raymond Abell, he had crossed from Port Jefferson, L. I., about opposite Bridgeport, Conn., but the chart on the pilot house table indicated the Mouette had crossed from a point close to the tip of Long Island where there are many inlets and small harbors in which a craft could anchor, and, at this season, be alone for days at a time.

When the Mouette put in at Block Island, Captain Rounds, according to his own statement, was surprised that the yachtman was trying to dock unaided. The type of craft usually carried two or three men, hence he gave a hand.

Cabin Curtains Drawn.

The curtains in the cabins were drawn. Colonel Lindbergh did not invite the others to look over his craft, nor did they in turn make inquiries about the new boat.

Capt. Rounds, who runs to this

WAY EXPECTED BE CLEARED FOR RECESS OF CONGRESS DURING WEEK

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Congressional leaders expect to bring their plans for a summer recess closer to realization this week by fulfilling at least two of the administration's pre-vacation requirements.

Spurred by the crash of wheat prices below the dollar level, they expect enough export debenture advocates in the senate to join with administration supporters in voting for eliminating that plan from the Chamber's farm relief bill to permit final enactment of the legislation in time to offset this year's crops.

On the house side of the capitol, one hour was allotted today for the discussion of a special rule intended to expedite consideration of the bill to provide for the 1930 census and reapportionment of its membership. A vote on the bill is expected in time to enable a conference committee to begin—and possibly finish—negotiations for adjustment of differences which may develop between the two chambers over this legislation, including probably a rejection by the house of the senate provision to

CONSERVATIVE LOSS RECENT ELECTIONS CAUSE FOR ACTION

BELIEVED RAMSAY MAC DONALD WILL BE ASKED TO ASSUME CONTROL

LONDON, June 3. (AP)—Premier Baldwin, who has governed England since October, 1924 at the head of a conservative cabinet, will place the resignation of his ministry in the hands of King George tomorrow at Windsor Castle.

His action, caused by the defeat of conservative party in the general elections Thursday, is in agreement with constitutional usage and with the advance of powerful conservative leaders and most of the conservative press.

J. Ramsay McDonald, premier of the first labor government in the history of England, is now considered certain to assume control of his majesty's government.

LONDON, June 3.—(AP)— Great Britain today awaited the next move of Stanley Baldwin before shaping itself for what was generally felt would be a Labor government headed by former Premier Ramsay MacDonald.

The prime minister spent the week eno at Chequers Court, offi-

FIRST VENIREMAN TO BE QUESTIONED ACCEPTED AS JUROR

BOTH DEFENSE AND STATE ANSWERS READY IN TRANSFERRED MURDER TRIAL

The trial of V. Ray Adams, 36, Bartlett rancher, on an indicement for the fatal shooting of Orville L. Matthews, Dallas bank employee in Dallas, Sept. 2, 1928, as a result of the celebrated election bet case on the outcome of the Tom Connally-Earl B. Mayfield senatorial race in Texas last year, got under way in the thirteenth judicial district court Monday morning shortly after 10 o'clock before Hawkins Scarborough, district judge. When the case was called, the state announced ready after calling their list of witnesses. After a conference of several minutes, th[illegible] fense announced ready witho[illegible] calling of the list of defen[illegible] nesses in open court.

One juror had been selected wh[illegible] court was adjourned shortly after 12 o'clock, to resume at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

From the line of questioning, the state may ask the death penalty, as the prospective jurors are queried as to whether they have any objections against the infliction of the death penalty in the proper case. The defense has filed a request for a suspended sentence in the event that the jury finds the defendant guilty and assesses less than five years punishment, according to the line of questioning. Church affiliations, occupation, etc., are asked.

The rule was demanded and all jurors and witnesses are being excluded from the courtroom.

Kerens Man First Juror.

E. K. Howell of Kerens, age 25 years, was the first man called on the special venire and also was the only man selected as a juror at the morning session. He is married, has no children, a native of Navarro county, graduate of Kerens High school, member of the Baptist church, believes in law enforcement, and has been an auto-

STORY OF TORTURE TOLD BY DRUGGIST FOLLOWING RELEASE

CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)—Kidnapped, tortured with glass and burning cigarettes, then dumped from an automobile, Matthew Zimmerman, a druggist, had a story to tell today.

He staggered into his home yesterday suffering from scores of burns and cuts inflicted by his captors in an effort to make him tell about a still he knew nothing of.

Zimmerman told police he was kidnapped Tuesday night when he answered the hail of several men who addressed his as "Matt." Lured to their car, he was seized, blindfolded and driven to a shack he believes to have been near Gary, Ind., where the men demanded that he tell where the still was.

To force him to talk, the men stripped him and cut his flesh with glass. When they burned him with cigarettes, Zimmerman said, he begged them to kill him.

Saturday night another member of the gang came to the hut. After looking at the captive, the newcomer cursed the others and declared:

"You've got the wrong man."

"The men blindfolded me again," Zimmerman related, "and put me back in their car. A little later they threw me out near Hammond, Ind., after telling me I was lucky to be alive."

place the 100,000 census enumerators under civil service.

Leaves One Major Problem.

That will leave the leaders with only one major problem to dispose of—the fixing of a date for senate action on the tariff bill. Afterwards they can move with administration approval for a short recess or a long one. That question has been put aside pending clarification of the legislative situation, in view of the opposition to an all-summer vacation expressed by several influential senators.

Return of the export debenture issue to the senate this week was regarded as certain in view of the progress of the joint conference committee working to bring the farm bills passed by the senate and the house into conformity. It has been taken for granted since the negotiations were resumed after the deadlock over the debenture elimination of the proposal to their chamber, which voted it into the legislation over the opposition of President Hoover by a majority of three.

While the house was called upon to begin discussion of the censensus-reapportionment bill today, the senate still had before it the proposal of Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, looking to governmental regulation of commission merchants dealing in perishable farm products, with the resolution of Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, for repeal of the national origins provision of the immigration law ready for consideration next.

The Nye resolution is intended to carry out the last of the five recommendations placed before the special session by President Hoover, who announced his opposiiton to the new national origins immigration quota basis at the time he issued his proclamation to put it into effect next month. Advocates of the plan, headed by Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, usually an administration supporter, predict that they will be able to prevent repeal.

FINAL SOLUTION OF REPARATIONS IS BELIEVED NEAR

PARIS, June 3.—(AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, acting in the name of the government, today delivered a letter to Owen D. Young, chairman of the reparations conference, proposing to separate negotiations between Belgium and Germany on [illegible] question of German marks left [illegible]lgium after the World War.

[illegible]LIN, June 3.—(AP)—The Ger[illegible]vernment has proposed to Belgium separate negotiations on the outstanding mark question with a view to settling it before the Paris agreement can come into force or the new reparations plan be jeopardized.

The proposal has been forwarded to Brussels by Robert Everts, Belgian minister in Berlin.

Belgian officials here expressed belief that the Belgian government could not be expected to accept the proposal and would undoubtedly continue to insist that the mark question must be negotiated in connection with the reparations conference at Paris.

The problem concerns the marks left in Belgian banks at the end of the World war which eventually became valueless.

PARIS, June 3.—(AP)—With the important problem of German marks in Belgium shortly to reach the stage of active negotiations, the last question standing in the way of complete accord on reparations today seemed headed for solution.

The experts, while apparently marking time pending the negotiations between Germany and Belgium regarding redemption of German marks, were putting the finishing touches on their report so far as can be done before complete agreement is reached.

News from Berlin that Dr. Ritter, ministerial director, was about to start for Paris to meet the Belgian plenipotentiary, M. Gutt, brought relief to the tense situation that existed since the experts came to an agreement on other points.

There were good prospects in the opinion of well informed circles, that the Germans and Belgians would reach an agreement and make possible signing of the report before the end of the week. It was even thought that Owen D. Young, Thomas W. Lamont and Thomas N. Perkins, the American experts, might be able to catch the Aquitania on Friday. J. P. Morgan, the fourth American expert, has left Paris.

The Belgian delegation demands 37 annuities of 25,000,000 marks (about $6,000,000), which valculated at 1-2 per cent has present value of 000,000,000 marks (approximately $96,000,000).

Postal Telegraph Office Opens Here For Press Stories

Although all preparations have not been completed for handling all kinds of commercial work, instruments have been installed to enable the company to handle a considerable volume of press on the W. Ray Adams trial now going on. All of the equipment will be installed immediatey and the formal opening date will be announced soon.

The new company has its quarters next door to the Ideal Theatre on West Fifth avenue in the building formerly occupied by the Southwestern Music Company.

But what took place in these conferences could not be learned. It was not known particularly whether he would resign immediately, or would choose to reorganize his government and fight it out before parliament when that body meets June 26, hoping with Liberal help to stave off a vote of no confidence.

It was no secret that those members of his cabinet who survived Thursday's cataclysm at the polls were divided as to the proper course. Sir Austin Chamberlain, foreign minister, believed his party leader should carry on as long as possible. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, believed the proper and more dignified thing would be to resign at once and let the Laborites have their day.

Public Opinion Divided.

Public opinion, too, seemed divided, although there was a tendency in evidence, in published expressions and in editorials in the press, to favor immediate resignation and formation of a Labor government

There was as much mystery as ever as to whether either tactit or open support would be shown David Lloyd George, Liberal chieftain, to either Labor or Conservative parties.

It appeared that he and his followers, with apparently full realization of the important role they may play as holding the balance of power, were awaiting Mr. Baldwin's move and would remain absolutely silent as to their intentions until the prime minister has shown his hand.

One of ten unreported seats was placed in the Conservative columns with completed returns Sunday, leaving but nine seats uncertain..

MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT CARNEGIE HALL

An impressive memorial service commemorating the birthday of Jefferson Davis and the memory of other distinguished soldiers, was given by the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy Sunday afternoon at the Carnegie library before a large number of friends of the veterans and World War heroes. The service was opened with prayer by the U. D. C. chaplain, Miss Lida Lea. Following the prayer, Mrs. Hal M. Peck delivered the opening speech of the occasion, touching upon the glory and valor of Southern manhood and concluding with a tribute to the services of Capt. Chas. A. Davis, hero of the World War and descendant of Confederate veteran. At the conclusion of Mrs. Peck's speech, Mrs. Geo. T. Jester presented Capt. Davis with World War service medal, given by the U. D. C. to war veterans of Southern ancestry. Capt. Davis responded with beautiful words of praise for the women of the Confederacy, closing his remarks with a glowing tribute to Marshal Foch.

The services and life of Jefferson Davis, hero of the Confederacy, were touched upon in words of affection by Fred Upchurch.

Mrs. Emma H. Townsend read the names of the deceased Confederate veterans, with Mrs. E. W. Warnell giving the names of the deceased members of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

A large silver bowl was placed on a table to receive the roses, commemorating the memory of those who have passed on. Little Bargara Jester, granddaughter of Mrs. Geo T. Jester, placed the red rose for the Daughters, and Edward Glass, grandson of Mrs. Townsend, the white rose in honor of the veterans and Marshal Foch.

The service was made more affecting by the sweet tones of Mrs. Autry's voice as she sang "America," "Dixie" and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground"—the audience joining her in the battle hymn of the Confederacy—"Dixie." Mrs. Autry was accompanied by Mrs. M. D. D. Adams.

Ben Blackmon, Jr., was flag bearer for the occasion.

This beautiful and touching service was closed by a prayer, fitting the theme of the program, given by Miss Lida Lea.

mobile mechanic for eight yers, he stated under questioning by Bob Allen, special prosecutor, of Dallas, for the state. Under questioning of Maury Hughes, Dallas, defense attorney, he admitted that he believed in self-defense, had never sat on a criminal jury, believed in the suspended sentence law in the proper case, didn't know Ben Richards and never had been a member of the Ku Klux Kln. The only thing the juror knew of the case was some reading of it in the newspapers, but had formed no opinion of the merits or facts of the case.

P. H. Findley, Kerens, 32, native of Kerens, owner of the garage at which E. K. Howell is employed, was the second prospective juror examined. The same line of questioning was propounded him by both state and defense. Ted Munroe conducted the examination for the defense. He had never been a member of the Klan, was a member of the Baptist church. From the line of questioning by Mr. Munroe, Adams will plead not guilty and will take the stand in his own behalf. Mr. Findley was excused by the state.

Defendant Enters Court.

The defendant entered the court room shortly before court opened, accompanied by his wife, 11-year-old daughter, Geneva; mother, Mrs. J. L. Adams of Thorndale; sister, Mrs. Jack Cowen, McCamy, Texas. About 100 friends of the Bartlett community are in Corsicana to attend the trial.

John Mayfield, brother of former Senator Earl B. Mayfield, was an interested spectator in the balcony Monday morning.

The prospective jurors were also interrogated as to whether they took active part in the senatorial race between Tom Connally and Earl B. Mayfield last year.

Of the 150 special veniremen summoned Monday morning, 101 answered, there being 12 absent without excuses, 11 with legal excuses, 7 excused by agreement of the attorneys, 11 out of the county and one excused to attend the funeral of his grandmother. There were 22 men excused by the court upon the hearing of excuses, leaving 84. Of the 36 regular jurors, 29 were present.

There were scores of interested spectators present at the beginning of the trial.

Witnesses Sworn.

All of the witnesses on the case were sworn in and warned by the court not to discuss the case or permit others to discuss it in their presence. The witnesses were excused until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Indications at noon Monday were that the jury would not be completed before late Monday afternoon.

The state is being represented by H. B. Daviss, county attorney of Navarro county; Cleo G. Miller, assistant county attorney of Navarro county; Bob Allen, Dallas, special prosecutor, who took the lead Monday morning; William McCraw, district attorney, Dallas county; Bob Hurt, assistant district attorney, Dallas county.

The defense is being represented by Ted Munroe and Maury Hughes, Dallas; T. W. Lovett and Norris Lovett, Corsicana.

A hotly contested battle is anticipated from the manner in which the case started Monday morning.

The case was tried in Dallas county in December and resulted in a hung jury. When the case was called for trial the second time during the past spring before District Judge Charles A. Pippen in Dallas county, a change of venue was granted and the case transferred to Navarro county, due to the great amount of newspaper publicity the case received on the first trial. This is the first time that the case has been called for trial in the local district court.

At 2:45 Monday afternoon, no further jurors had been accepted in the case. Nine veniremen had been questioned up to that time. Those questioned included: E. A. Barnett, Kerens; L. Murphy Kerens; Charles Reese, Kerens; E. H. Brister, Kerens; Celeste Owens, Kerens; R. S. Daniel, Kerens; Tom Eaton, Kerens; D. L. Boyd, Blooming Grove; L. J. McGraw, Blooming Grove, all being excused by either the state or defense.

Senate Committee Favor Government to Manage Muscle Shoals

WASHINGTON, June 3. —(AP)— Attacking the "power trust" for its opposition to governmental operation of Muscle Shoals, the senate agriculture committee today favorably reported to the senate the Norris resolution to carry out that plan.

The report denied the question involved was one of "putting the government into business," holding it was one of "protecting government property, improvement property, improvement of navigation, and the controlling of damaging flood waters," and declaring the "power trust still opposes to the bitter end any legislation similar to the Muscle Shoals bill."

An identical resolution was adopted by the last congress but it was "pocket vetoed" by President Coolidge.

The message quoted the plea for la wobservance in President Hoover's inaugural address and invited Americans, "whatever their previous opinions and social practices, and particularly those in business and professional life, to join with us in following the president. Let us unite to give the eighteenth amendment an honest chance for complete enforcement."

The signers are:

A letter expressing disapproval of the recently organized voluntary committee of lawyers opposed to the eighteenth amendment, and an answer to it by Joseph H. Choate, Jr., member of the board of managers of the committee, were also published.

The message, to the American people and the lawyers' letters were published a day after the announcement that Justice Franklin C. Hoyt of the New York children's court had been awarded the prize of $25,000 offered by William R. Hearst for a substitute plan for prohibition.

Justice Hoyt's plan called for repeal of the Volstead act and enactment of a new law defining "intoxicating liquors" as "all alcoholic products of distillation," thereby excluding wines and beer. Traffic in wine and beer would be under state regulation under his plan.

port, today told of the incident saying he thought the yachtman was Lindbergh from his height and build, although the latter did not remove colored glasses while they were together. After Captain Rounds had been told that his surmise was right, Colonel Lindbergh also told Adrain Mitchell a taxi driver, who was on the dock, of his identity and that he was on his way to Boston to take on a party of four.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 3.—(AP)—Captain Louis Rounds of the motor boat Elizabeth Ann said today he had assisted a man who identified himself as Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh tie up a yacht at Block Island late Saturday.

The colonel, according to Captain Rounds, was wearing dark glasses to conceal his identity, but admitted he was Lindbergh when questioned. He had stopped to take on gasoline and water and is quoted as telling Captain Rounds he was on his way to Boston to pick up a party of four.

The yacht, according to Captain Rounds, was a 38-foot motor, double cabin vessel called "Mouette" of New York.

Captain Rounds said the yacht was a new one, and apparently had come from Montauk Point, although the yatchmen said he came from Port Jefferson, L. I.

On the deck of the yacht were several gasoline drums. The yachtsman bought a barrel of water and after a while put to sea again.

Captain Rounds and his mate, Raymond Abell, both formerly in shipping board service, said they were attracted to the yacht which was about 38 feet long, by efforts of the yachtman to make a landing. He was alone, and usually craft of that size have at least two men. They had an idea that the yachtman was Lindbergh and they finally asked him, they said, he admitted identity.

The curtains in the cabin were drawn, and so far as could be observed, no one was in that part of the craft.

The yachtman wore white duck trousers, a sport shirt and sneakers, and his head was uncovered.

After it had been definitely learned Clonel Lindbergh had bought the Mouette, Irwin Chase, manager of the Elco Works was asked about the sale and why it had been kept secret.

"I am very sorry," he said, "but I am unable to confirm the report of a sale of the Mouette to Colonel Lindbergh.

"You don't deny it, do you?" he was asked.

"Oh, no," he replied. 'I am merely unable to say anything about it. The Mouette is a standard 38-foot double cabin cruiser recently built here. Not an order of anyone. It was sold from our showrooms. But I am not at liberty to say who the purchaser was.

"The Mouette it a very unpretentious yacht, constructed for owner operation. It sells for $10,750, and has a speed between 15 and 17 miles an hour. There is a state room aft, with sleeping accommodations for two, a bridge deck forward of this with all the controls and a forward cabin with accommodations for four persons."

Lindy Bought Boat.

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh bought a 38-foot double cabin motor yacht named Mounette two weeks ago, one week before he was married and set forth on his honeymoon.

This was authoritatively learned today, although the Elco boat works of Bayonne, N. J., builders of the yacht, said they could not say anything about the matter.

Additional Confirmation.

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. June 3. —(AP)—Reports that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, stopped here on Saturday afternoon in a yacht named Moulette were added to by Adrian Mitchell, a taxi driver.

Mitchell said he saw the tall stranger wearing dark glasses and thought he saw a resemblance to the famous honeymooner. He asked the man if he were Colonel Lindbergh and received an affirmative reply.

The man who said he was Colonel Lindbergh said the boat was going to Boston.

FORT WORTH, June 3.—(AP)—Whether the present 100,000 barrel per day outlet for oil from the Yates pool in Pecos county will be increased July 1 or not may be decided today when Yates pool operators formulate recommendations to the Texas Railroad commission for the next six months pro-ratiom period.

The operators went into session here at 10 a. m.

At a previous meeting a unanimous recommendation for extension of the Yates progation for another six months was formulated, but no amount was settled on. Ideas of the operators in this connection is said to be between 100,000 and 140,000 barrels per day.

MANY VISIT LOCAL AIRPORT ON SUNDAY; PEDLEY WAS HERE

ARMY FLYERS FROM SAN ANTONIO FIELDS ALSO VISITED AIRPORT

Several hundred people visited the Corsicana Municipal Airport during the week-end, some watching the aeral maneuvers, while others took advantage of the flying facilities offered by the Travel-By-Air company.

Charley Pedley, veteran Corsicana airman, flew down from his Dallas headquarters Sunday in a Curtis Robin, and assisted in piloting the two Travelair planes that comprise the flying equipment of the local corporation, headed by Harold J. Nichols, a former student of Pedley's.

Pedley was highly elated over the showing of Jim Kelly, co-pilot of the "Fort Worth" on its record-breaking flight recently. Kelly was the first student to come under Pedley's tutelage after he joined the Texas Air Transport corporation.

Lieut. Rogers of Brooks Field, San Antonio, made a brief visit to the airport Sunday afternoon on a cross-country jaunt from his home port. Lieut. Cramer, also of Brooks field stopped at the port both Saturday and Sunday, leaving Lieut. Holland here on his northern flight to Dallas, and picking him up again Sunday on the return trip. Both pilots were flying DeHaviland observation or bombing planes; all of the officers are instructors in the primary flying school at Brooks Field.

Popularity of the field with army flyers, and the constantly increasing interest of the citizens of Corsicana speaks highly for the class of equipment and service offered at the local field under the direction of Manager Nichols.

CHICAGO WOMAN SUSPECTED CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF YOUNG WOMAN FOUND SLAIN

CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Catherine Cassler, who spent 27 months in jail for murder, was back there today with new murder accusations flying about her graying head.

A mesh of circumstances which began forming before her release from jail April 30 has involved her in the inquiry into the death of Cammeolia Soutar, the 24-year-old divorcee, whose body, a bullet through the heart, was found deep in a swamp near Hebron, Ind., last Friday.

Mrs. Cassler has denied knowledge of Miss Soutar's death. She said she knew her husband, Turman, had employed the young woman as housekeeper during part of the time she was in jail and she had heard other things involving the two.

Mrs. Cassler's husband provided the most damaging information. He said that three days after his wife's release from jail she had confronted Miss Soutar, and himself threatening them with a revolver.

Cassler said his wife and son, Edward, 19, went out Tuesday in an automobile and did not return until late at night. The next day, he continued, Mrs. Cassler was very "nervous and sick."

Mrs. Cassler was convicted in May, 1927, of the murder of William Lindstrom, a cabinet maker. She was sentenced to death but won a new trial after delays. The state nolle prossed the case.

HOUSE MEMBERS REFUSE CONTINUE FARM CONFERENCE

DEMAND THAT DEBENTURE BE ELIMINATED; REPUBLICAN LEADERS SPLIT

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—Congressional interest over the week-end is focused on the farm relief conferees of the senate and house, called to resume their meetings today after the refusal of the house members to continue discussions until the export debenture provision had been eliminated.

The renewal of conferences was regarded as forecasting a surrender by the senate group on the debenture, bu, that point had not been decided, and Senator McNary, republican,, Oregon, chairman of the conferees, hoped to go ahead with his original plan of taking up other differences between the senate and rouse on farm relief before settling the big dispute.

Hoover Forces Issue.

The edict of President Hoover that farm relief must be enacted into law before a congresisonal vacation is arranged for has forced the issue. House leaders are standing by the presidential opposition to the debenture. It appears that the senate next week will be called upon to make a choice between eliminating this controversial proposition or staying in session to fight it out with the house.

The bill of Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, to place commission merchants dealing in perishable products under federal supervision, was the business before the senate today. So many members made plans for the week-end carrying them out of the city, however, that no hope was held of making headway before Monday.

Show-Down Next Week.

Next week is expected to bring the showdown on the congressional situation. By that time something definite is expected from the farm relief conferees; a vote will be had on the Borah bill; and a vote is in prospect on the motion of Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, to carry out President Hoover's recommendation for repeal of the national origins immigration quota provision. The house is expected to act early in the week on the census-reappodrtionment measure passed Wednesday by the senate.

But Mr. Hoover also has given notice that before any recess is undertaken, he expects the senate to fix a definite date for a vote in the fall on the tariff bill. Subsequently, some sharp differences of view as to vacation plans have been disclosed.

Republican Leaders Split.

Senator Jones, of Washington, assistant leader, has bolted the program of Senator Watson of Indiana, the party leader, for the all-summer recess. Senator Jones says the tariff bill ought to be enacted into law before any recess is taken.

Senator Smoot, Utah, veteran chairman of the finance committee, however, has answered that the committee will require two months to get the bill ready for the senate. So, the hope of Senator Jones to force a continuous session and action on the tariff measure by September seems to have been severely jolted. Senator Watson, meanwhile, is going ahead working out an agreement for a vote in November in the senate on the tariff.

Committees Resume Work

WASHINGTON, May 31.—(AP)—The farm relief conference committee resumed its negotiations today hopeful of an early agreement on the export debenture plan and all other differences in the two farm bills passed separately by the senate and house.

Senator McNary of Oregon, chairman of the conference, said he expected the committee to conclude its work not later than tomorrow while Representative Haugen, of Iowa, ranking house member of the committee, declared he saw no reason to prolong discussions.

Resumption of discussions was taken to mean the senate conferees would recede from the debenture section and take the controversy to the senate for decision. None of the conference members, however, would comment on this.

NORTH CAROLINAN HEADS ROTARIANS FOR ENSUING YEAR

BOY WORK SUPERVISOR STRESSES NEED OF ADDITIONAL ACTIVITY

DALLAS, May 31. (AP)—M. Eugene Newsom of Durham, N. C., was named president of Rotary International for the coming year at the closing session of that organization's twentieth annual convention here today.

The vote for president was 1,354 for Newsom to 959 for Raymond Knoeppel of New York City, but this was made unanimous on the motion of Knoeppel.

Carl W. Ackley of Vineland, N. J., Roy Ronald of Mitchell, S. D., Clyde W. Hulsizer of Des Moines, Ia., Dan O'Hern of Oklahoma City and Dave Clark of Charlotte, N. C., were elected directors of the international representing the United States.

Immediately after the results of the election were announced the board of directors announced that Dr. Otto Boehler of Vienna, Dr. Eduoard Willems of Brussels and Dr. Florestian Aguilar of Madrid had been named to fill the other vacancies on the board. These men represent all of the nations not assigned permanent seats on the directorate.

DALLAS, May 31.—(AP)—The need for intensified programs of boys' work, work among crippled children, and student loan fund projects by Rotary clubs in all parts of the world, was stressed by speakers before the closing session of Rotary International's twentieth convention annual convention here today.

George W. Olinger of Denver, Colo., chairman of the boys' work division of the International urged delegates to make it a point to "become somebody in some boy's life" helping him to help himself without the aid of charity. Mr. Olinger said that there was a greater need and a greater challenge today for work among boys than ever before and urged every club to get solidly behind some project looking to the welfare of the boys of its town.

Speaking on much the same theme, Mahlon S. Drake of Newark, N. J., urged that boys and girls be encouraged to travel if possible in foreign lands, or at least correspond with the youth of other lands in order to attain "human solidarity and understanding."

Ed R. Kelsey of Cleveland, O., told the convention that at least a score of agencies in the United States, working for the salvation of crippled children, owed their inception to Rotary's devotion to its motto: "Service." "Since we have started this work," Mr. Kelsey said, "we have learned that there is no longer any such thing as a crippled child, if the mind is not crippled."

During today's session President I. B. Sutton, who has completed his term, was awarded a check for $5,000 by the organization. The convention ends with today's sessions, but district governors from all sections of the world will remain here for another week in conference on problems of international service.

Roaming the Realm — Of — County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN

The Mag-Miller nine divided a double-header played in Palestine Sunday afternoon with the Missouri Pacific nine, winning the first 5-0, when Adolf Ruth outsmarted the Railroader batters and lost the final, 7-3 when Hendrix allowed the Corsicana Independents only five hits in the seven-inning encounter.

The Zions Rest nine came to life Sunday afternoon and took a double header, the first game from the Blac Hills nine 4-3 and the second the Farmer aggregation, 16-3.

We carried a little article several days ago which we said that the Zions Rest team did not care to play the White's Chapel nine after being defeated badly in two encounters, but it seems like the tables have turned now, according to the Zions Rest manager, Red Murphey, the north side team has tried to arrange a game with the White's Chapel team but have failed to do so. Now we don't believe that either side is afraid of each other, but that a great amount of work has to be done on the farm and that the White's Chapel team cannot arrange a game. Guess it would be a pretty good game if these two teams would tangle up, as the Zions Rest nine has secured the services of a number of Corsicana sand lotters and can mix it with the best of them.

The State Home Lads handed the White's Chapel team a 1-0 defeat, in a bang-up baseball game Friday afternoon on the White's Chapel diamond. The Lads have cherished a secret to hand their neighbors a good witewashing, and they should feel happy now.

Play will begin in the Navarro county American Legion Junior Baseball league this week, it was announced by Beauford H. Jester, state director of the American Legion Baseball league. The schedule for the elage includes games between the Cotton Mill nine and the State Home Lads, the winner to meet the I. O. O. F. team for the champsionship. The bi-county title will be decided when the Navarro county finalist meets the winner of the Limestone county league as soon as the county titles have been settled.

STATE HOME LADS DEFEATED WHITE'S CHAPEL ON FRIDAY

Hitting opportunely behind the air tight pitching of Herrell, who whiffed seven and allowed only two hits, the State Home Lads defeated the White's Chapel nine, 1-0, Friday afternon on the White's Chapel diamond.

Herrell received great support from the outfield, both McKeefer and Earls making splendid catches to cut off rallies. On several occasions during the game, the Lads had men on bases but could not bring them across home plate, with the exception of the fourth inning when Herrell crossed home plate for the only tally of the game.

Bryant, Lad catcher, and Hale, first baseman and captain, led the hitting attack of the visitors.

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER AND TWO OTHERS RELEASED

CHAIRMAN OF BOARD SAYS ACTION TAKEN "FOR GOOD OF SERVICE"

HOUSTON, May 31. (AP)—B. A. Everts assistant general manager of the state prison system, and two other officials have been dismissed, according to W. A. Paddock, chairman of the state prison board.

J. R. Jordan, record clerk at Huntsville, and W. D. McConnell, night warden, were the other two officials released, Paddock said in the announcement yesterday.

In explaining his action Paddock said the dismissals were "for the good of the service."

In the shakeup J. W. Benton, Jordan's assistant, become record clerk. Paddock said the place of assistant manager would not be filled at present.

Paddock said that the board had acted upon Everts' case at a meeting in Houston. The case of Jordan, he said, had been decided at a previous meeting.

No action by the board was necessary in McConnell's case, as W. H. Mead, general manager of the prison system, had authority to discharge him without referring the matter to the board, he said.

PRICES OF GRAIN SOARED ON CHICAGO MARKET MONDAY

CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)—Grain prices turned the corner today and spurred by prohecies of quick governamental action to relieve the surplus crop situatioon, raced uphill in sensatinal leaps. Wheat jumped up nearly nine cents a bushel at the opening and settled back at the close to an advance of 5 3-8 to 6 1-8 cents over Saturday's dull closing quotations. July wheat, selling under a dollar last week, for the first time in six years, finished today at $1.03 5-8 to seven-eighths.

All grains traded in the futures pits came back, corn rising 3 7-8 to 4 3-8 cents and oats 1 3-8 to one 3-4 cents, the trade disregarding all routine crop news and harvest predictions and listening only to the reports from congress. RAIN, HAIL AND WIND OVER KANSAS AND MISSOURI CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE MANY POINTS

KANSAS CITY, June 3. —(P)— Torrential rains, hail and wind caused damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars in Kansas and Missouri yesterday.

A severe rain and wind storm at Wichita, Kas., wrecked several buildings and a dozen airplanes at the Municipal and Swallow Factory airports, damage approaching the $200,000 mark. The Western Air Express tri-motored plane, bound from Los Angeles to Kansas City, landed five minutes before the storm struck and was demolished. The plane, valued at $75,000 was on the second flight of the new Kansas City-Los Angeles line.

Windows in buildings in Wichita's business district were shattered and trees were uprooted in the residential section. Scores of persons were injured slightly.

Reports indicated heavy rains and hail with strong winds swept the southern half of the state. Near Hardtner a house was blown from its foundation. It was feared the wheat crop may have been damaged considerably.

Flood damage in Northwest Missouri already amounting to thousands of dollars, was increased by rains of cloudburst proportion. Many bridges were washed out and railroad and bus service was paralyzed. Thousands of acres of farm land have been flooded by rains totalling 11 inches since last Friday and are believed to be unfit for cultivation.

Water was five to 10 feet deep in more than 50 homes in Pattonsburg, near St. Joseph, Mo.

Many Families Flee.

REVIVAL CONTINUES AT TENT ON NORTH BEATON STREET

At the tent on North Beaton street Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the singing and special music was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bowers assisted by Garner and Paul Wells, sons of the evangelist, Garner Wells rendering a cornet solo after which the message was brought by the evangelist, subject being that of "Prayer." In the first place he insisted that there was power in praying, using as his scriptural basis Hoesa 12:4. In the second place he insisted that we should prevail in prayer sighting such stiptures as 1: Timothy 2:1 through verse 8 and John 15:7. In the third place he called attention to a few examples of prayer, namely Daniel, the Hebrew children, Jesus Christ being an example of prayer, Paul, Silas and Elijah. He also called attention to a few examples of prayer outside the Bible. Referring to the Westleys, Knok,Fletcher, Whitefield, Branierd, Pasen and George Muller.

At night his subject being the Second Coming of Christ, referring to the buds on the prophetic tree. The first bud that opens its petals to us in such a remarkable way is that of perilous times. The second but that had opened its petals in such a remarkable way is a rapid succession of great disasters. The third bud having opened its petals is a mervelous increase of wealth.

The fourth bud that we pluck from the tree of prophecy is found in the book of Daniel where many shall run to and fro on the earth, and increase in knowledge. The fifth one referred to is that of wars and rumors of wars. The most remarkable bud of all, perhaps the least noticed is the return of the Jews to Palestine. Since the days of Abraham it has been theirs by warranted deed. At the conclusion of the message an invitation was extended and several raised their hands forprayer. Services tonight at 7:45. The public isinvited. — REPORTER.

PRESBYTERIANS IN MOVEMENT TO ABOLISH WARFARE

PREACHING ON LAW ENFORCEMENT; REPORTS ARE HEARD

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—(P)—The stand of the federal council of churches against war was approved in a resolution adopted today by the commissioners to the 71st United Presbyterian General assembly. Some debate preceded approval of the resolution. The Rev. Dr. Charles Gilmore, Cadiz, Ohio, in opposing the council's stand, said "war is a necessity of the time."

The commissioners adopted a report on the state of religion recommending the church undertake a campaign of education on law enforcement and that ministers be urged to preach on the subject.

Thirty-six thousand letters were sent out during the last presidential campaign asking members of the church to pray for success of the "dry candidate," a report of the Women's General Missionary Society disclosed. The report was approved.

NECESSITY FOR SNOBBISHNESS IS SUBJECT OF TALK

BOSTON, June 30.—(P)—The necessity of snobbishness, a doctrine enunciated by Professor Robert Rogers of Massachusetts Institute of Technology in an address before the members of the graduating class, was under debate here today.

"Be a snob," Prof. Rogers told tha seniors. "You will find it is just as easy to marry the boss' daughter as the stenographer... dress, speak and act like a gentleman, and you will be surprised at the murder you can get away with.

"Never buy a suit of clothes unless you get an extra pair of trousers. Keep one suit of clothes pressed every week. Never buy shoes unless you buy shoe trees for them. Keep them shined, shave yourself and never wear the same collar at night which you wear all day."

Harvard, he declared, has received more publicity and money than any other American university because Harvard has never stopped "putting up a front, never gives in, never argues, blandly goes on its way."

MANIAC WHO SLEW THREE MEN FOUND DEAD ON RAILWAY

KILLED TWO POLICEMEN, AND NEIGHBOR; WOUNDED THREE OTHERS

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP) —Ferdinand Preuss, maniac who shot three men dead and wounded three others while in a drunken fury yesterday, was decapitated today by a Chicago and Northwestern Railroad train. A body found on the right of way was identified positively by a fishing license issued to Preuss, and police believe the man, sobered over night, realized the tragedy of yesterday and committed suicide.

The condition of Preuss' body indicated he had lain on the track and waited for the train to run over him, police said.

Killed Three Men

Preuss, a war veteran and expert marksman, killed two policemen and a civilian yesterday and wounded a policeman and two civilians with a pump shotgun. The police were members of a squad sent to arrest him after neighbors heard him threaten to kill his wife.

John Lee Conley, leader of the detective squad, was the first to fall before the mad man's onslaught. After mortally wounding him, Preuss fired at Policeman Herbert Hagberg, who whirled, screamed, took a dozen steps and fell dead.

Police got a call that a man was quarreling with his wife and threatening to kill her and Policeman Conley's detective squad went to the flat where Preuss and his wife lived.

The house that had been quiet when they approached echoed with the roar of a pumpgun as a charge of shot crashed through a window and tore into Conley's chest. A second roar and Hageberg, his face nearly shot away, whirled, and fell dead.

Three Are Wounded

Policeman J. J. Murphy, Conley's chauffeur, who had remained in the car, seized a shotgun and started to the help of the other policemen. He had taken less than a dozen steps when Preuss' pumpgun blazed through a front window, and Murphy fell badly wounded.

A second later Gus Karos, who lived three doors away from the Preuss home, and John Chorazak, another neighbor, both attracted by the shooting, met where Murphy had fallen. Karos had rushed out to meet his blind brother-in-law, Rudolph Krusche, who had been to a nearby store and was expected home.

Another shot and Chorazak, standing not 10 feet from the window, fell dead. Karos jumped to shield with his body his brother-in-law who was passing the house. The fifth shell in Preuss' gun was discharged and struck him in the back.

Shoots At Fourth

The slayer a second later rushed out of the rear door of his home, stood cursing over the bodies of Conley and Hagberg, and then fled into an alley.

In the alley, Preuss met Frank Vodicka, who was running toward the scene of the shooting. Vodicka turned and ran into a narrow passageway when he saw Preuss, foaming at the mouth and aiming the shotgun at him. Preuss fired one shell, then threw the weapon at Vodicka as the latter fled.

Mrs. Rose Preuss, the slayer's wife, was found in the home of a neighbor, where she had taken refuge. She said her husband had served in France during the war and had won honorable mention for his marksmanship.

WEST TEXAS SUFFERS GREAT DAMAGE FROM WIND, RAIN AND HAIL OVER SCATTERED AREA

ABILENE, June 3. —(P)— The Abilene Reporter today said reports indicated property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars had been caused Sunday from wind, hail and rain storms in scattered districts of West Texas. One death was reported.

Heaviest damage was inflicted along the Southwestern and Western borders of Haskell county, the newspaper said reports compiled by its staff indicated. In the Center and Plainview community houses were destroyed by a tornado which raged for fifteen minutes. A strip from Jud to Rule in Haskell county was riddled by hailstones as large as baseballs, the paper said, with crops destroyed on 20,000 to 30,000 acres. Small livestock, chickens and birds were killed.

On an eight-mile belt lying between Rule and Haskell a 40-minute rain was estimated up to 15 inches, causing heavy damage. *Farm houses were flooded and wa*ter stood to four feet in depth along 6 miles of highway No. 120, connecting Haskell and Rule. More than 100 automobiles were marooned in that section all Sunday night. Many of the cars were abandoned by occupants.

A heavy hail storm was reported from the Ira and Dun communities of southwestern Scurry county, the reporter said, fruit trees were stripped, roofs punctured and automobiles dented as if sledge hammers had been used, according to the reports.

At Richland Springs, San Saba county, Jesse Ransom Munsell, 20-year-old linotype operator, was killed when he came into contact with a high tension wire during an electrical storm.

There was no storm in the immediate vicinity of Abilene.

Make Your Dreams Come True

J. E. METCALF AND SON

Owning your own home today does not necessarily need to be the realization of years of dreaming. It can be made the realization of one dream, just as easily. All a man has to do today is make up his mind he is going to own his own home, acquaint some reliable home builder of his determination, and he will do the rest. The first step, therefore, in acquiring a home is to make up your mind.

The second, and probably the most important is: how much money can you spend and the amount of monthly payments you want to make. Every man should "hitch his wagon to a star," but his ambitions should not be permitted to run away with his better judgment and be carried beyond the powers of his savings and income.

The next is the location, in selecting a home site, the future home owner must keep in mind the type of home he is going to build so that it will conform with other houses in the neighborhood. Either extreme is dangerous. A man should not consider building a modern home amidst a group of hovels or menial, antiquated structures, nor should he contemplate a cheaply constructed home in an up-to-date neighborhood.

The location should have the proper environment and associations which are imperative for elevating social connections and in the proper rearing of children, and it should be in proximity to schools, churches, shopping and amusement centers and recreational facilities. It should have the necessary modern improvements, such as water, gas, electricity, sewers, paved streets, sidewalks, etc.

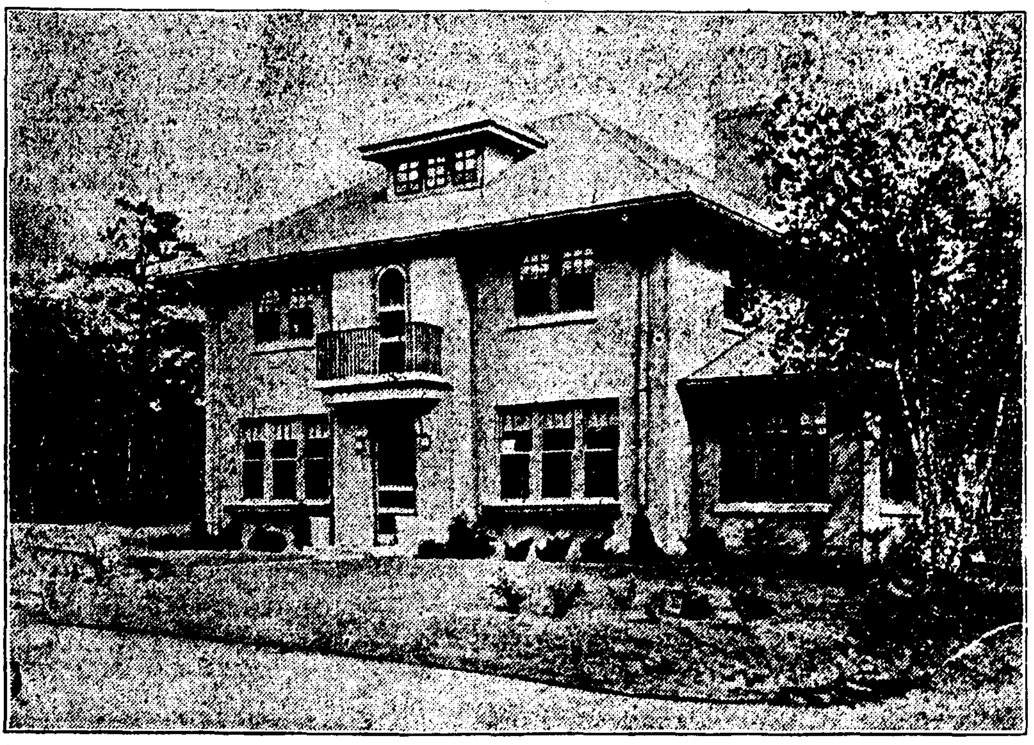
Thenext consideratio is the selection of a contractor. Financing and location may be important preliminary details, but if due consideration and investigation is not given the man who is to build it, all the saving, planning and care*ful selection* of a location, are worthless.

The next consideration is the seed in the selection of a contractor are: efficiency of workmanship, the dependability of his materials and last, but not least, his price.

The contracting business is no different in Corsicana than in any other city. Corsicana has many good contractors. But the contracting business, like other lines of endeavor, has changed considerably within the last few years.

The dependable home building contractor day in and day out is interested in making dreams come true.

Dignified and Impressive Georgian Style



SEVEN LARGE ROOMS CLOSED-IN SUNPORCH

Both in exterior and interior, this attractive home lives up to the impressive and dignified appearance it presents. All of the charm of Georgian architecture has been woven into its design and the finished house carries real individuality.

Especially well set off by the exterior finish of tinted portland cement stucco, this home in Wellesley, Mass., is one of which the owner may well feel proud.

The selection of construction materials shows careful judgment. Walls of concrete masonry covered with stucco is a combination that grows stronger with age and never loses its attractiveness. (Either hollow block or concrete structural tile may be used.)

In the interior, the central stair hall arrangement is colonial. At the right is a spacious living room with fireplace, and just beyond is a fine glazed sunporch. The dining room with two groups of triple windows is at the left. The hall between the dining and living rooms gives much desired privacy during meals.

Between the dining room and a small dining alcove is the well-equipped kitchen. A pantry of good size is a feature that housewives will not overlook.

On the second floor are three bedrooms as well as a sleeping porch under the main roof.

This home, as a whole, is one that will give a good account of itself wherever built, and will appear to best advantage on a lot that is spacious.

BLUE BONNETS ON HIGHWAYS.

A letter from T. M. Cobb to the editor of this paper brings a suggestion which if carried out will not only beautify the highways but will bring considerable advertising to the county.

"I am much interested in the beautifying of our improved highways," Mr. Cobb writes from Corpus Christi. My suggestion is to start now with planting a strip of our state flower, the blue bonnet, along either side of the right of way. Now is the time to gather the seed. California is doing this with its state flower. I would like to see Navarro county set the style in Texas to do this."

The Civic club and the Nature Study club are mentioned by Mr. Cobb as the organizations qualified to start such a move and it is suggested these two clubs organize a highway club to push the movement.

"I have covered considerable territory in South and Southwest Texas since I left home and the blue bonnets seem to flourish better in Navarro county than any of the counties I have visited," Mr. Cobb writes and closes with the urge that Navarro be known as the blue bonnet county of Texas.

It is our opinion that Mr. Cobb has hit upon an admirable idea which could be carried out at a very little expense. If our highways were lined with these flowers it would not be long before Navarro county would be known from coast to coast as the blue bonnet county and travelers would go out of their way to drive over our highways lined with a mass of blue flowers.

PERILS OF NEW MONEY.

After more than a year's delay the government will begin early in July the issuance of Secretary Mellon's long - heralded diminutive paper money. The change in size and design of currency seems to have been an undertaking beset with more obstacles and involving more labor than was commonly supposed when it was undertaken.

The public is much concerned with the greater convenience of the smaller-sized notes, but the government is effecting the change in the interest of economy and prevention of fraud.

Officials of the treasury department at Washington are taking every precaution to prevent possible fraud in connection with the exchange. Before the pigmy bills are placed in general circulation they will be displayed in all banks to give the public an opportunity to acquaint itself with them. As long as both sizes are in circulation and the public is unfamiliar with the smaller bills, special precaution against fraud will be necessary.

Once the public has become familiar with the new currency, counterfeiting will be very difficult. Each denomination, whether silver or gold certificates or federal reserve notes, will bear on its face a distinctice portrait. One-dollar notes will carry the picture of Washington; two-dollar bills, that of Jefferson; five-dollar bills, that of Lincoln. Since portraits are extremely difficult to counterfeit it, will be safer to note the worth of a bill from the picture than from the numerals.

However essential it is that all the old money be turned in expeditiously, it will be several months before the 900,000,000 bills of the present size can be collected.

Apartment house owners in Turin, Italy, offer a cash bonus for every child born in their houses. And not only that, but they let 'em live there after they are born.

SENATE SECRECY AND THE PRESS.

Burke said there were three estates in Parliament; but in the reporters' gallery yonder there sat a Fourth Estate more important far than they all.—Thomas Carlyle.

Judging from their debate, most United States senators would be loath to admit the slightest applicability of the British statesman's dictum to their own sacrosanct assembly. The forbidding of floor privileges to all reporters because of the alleged offensive enterprise of one shows how panicky and illogical senators can suddenly become in a rush to assert their dignity.

In its occasional collisions with legislative bodies the press has never come off second best, and there is no indiction now that it is to be hampered in its collection and distribution of news relating to the senate. For it is the senators themselves who have made a joke of the "secrecy" of the most closely guarded executive session. Why pillory newspapermen for printing facts communicated to them by senators themselves?

The comedy of the situation is intensified by the disclosure that the senator most active in denouncing the reporters' lack of ethics in recording what happens in "secret" session has himself furnished material for such an article. There seems to be no practical way to prevent senators from telling tales out of school. But the session from which the general public is excluded has no rightful place, and those senators who contend that every session, even if discussing presidential appointments or delicate foreign relations should be wide open, are to be enthusiastically hailed as the champions of the people or of the newspapers.

The senatorial output of oratory on this subject is confusing the issue. Let the senators put the "blame," if any, where it belongs: on its own members. They might test their authority by holding an executive session to pass a resolution of censure on one or more of their number and then see if the news is printed—as it probably would be..

MILLIONS OF AUTOMOBILES.

The bureau of public roads, federal department of agriculture, reports that for the year 1928 there were registered in the United States 24,493,124 motor vehicles — including automobiles, taxicabs, auto buses, motor trucks and road tractors. This was an increase of 1,359,883 over the year 1927.

Estimating the population at $120,013,000, there is now a motor vehicle for every five persons in the country—one for every family. No doubt the great increase in the number of automobiles and the growing popularity of the radio are largely responsible for the noticeable depression in the moving picture and theatrical business.

There was collected last year in this country, in license and registration fees, fines and other charges, the great sum of $322,630,025, which was an increase of more than $21,500,000 over 1927.

New York heads the list, with 2,083,942 registered vehicles, and California was second with 1,799,890. Nevada is at the foot of the list, with 27,376.

Selling the Mayflower is the job now to be undertaken by official Washington. Doubtless there are many individual citizens who can finance a yacht which the nation could not afford to float.

Little black bags have retained their reputation in the world of finance as a result of the $750,000 brought to this country by Mexican rebels.

Married men as well as married women are barred from teaching in Monroe county, Tennessee. On the theory, presumably, of equal rights.

Wrist watches that wind themselves are the latest scientific achievement. Now we can devote all our time to the problems of life.

THE CRIME-CURE COMMISSION.

The joker in President Hoover's crime commission is the $250,000 of the taxpayers' money it will spend in what seems to be a wild goose chase. The commission cannot learn or tell anything about the crime, law enforcement and prohibition questions the government and public do not already know, and the president's naivete is pitiful if he thinks his commisison can convert the wets to prohibition or the drays to repeal or modification.

The fact is that the crimes the public is worried about cannot be prevented. Washington's troubles with the enforcement of the Volstead act are of little concern to those not engaged in the business of violating or upholding that law, and the gang wars and organized banditry affect but a small part of the population. Those may or may not be capable of cure. But the appalling number of murders and other atrocities perpetrated by maniacs and fiends keeps great numbers in constant fear, and the Hoover commission can do nothing about it.

Virtually all of the crimes which come under the description of horrible are the acts of the perverted or insane, who are not notorious as such, but suddenly become possessed with the desire to kill or torture. Prisons, executions, not even a crime commission, can deter these beasts in human form.

Crimes of this nature will diminish only when society consents to the permanent detention of the thousands of men and women known to be mentally and morally irresponsible. Today, they are at large until something goes wrong within and some innocent victim is outraged or murdered.

IDEALISM IN ADVERTISING.

The International Advertising Association, in session at Chicago, has adopted an ethical code, which, in broad principle, is a splendid commentary on the standards which now prevail in this important segment of American business. The association stresses the following aims:

1. To conduct our business on the principal of truth, honesty and integrity in every transaction.

2. To seek lasting success and efficient service to our customers and the public by thorough and unceasing study of our business and field of endeavor.

In proposing these central principles of guidance, the association appends an outline of practical methods by means of which they can be carried out.

It is a credit to the advertising leaders of the world that so meritorious a statement of standards should be widely distributed as a sound basis for business conably would be.

KNOW TEXAS.

Delaware and Nevada furnishes the fewest citizens to Texas. In the 1920 census 234 persons of Nevada birth and 234 of Delaware birth were in the Texas enumeration. Of the total population 70.9 were born in Texas, 20.8 percent were born in other states of the union and 8.8 foreign born.

Every state has contributed to Texas' population, ranging from 234 from Delaware and Nevada up to the 115,861 from Tennessee. Outside the South, Missouri with 63,336 leads, but Oklahoma has sent 58,492, Illinois 39,941, Kansas 21,537, Ohio 19,863, Pennsylvania 15,463 and New York 15,437.

In percentage of native white population Abilene and Amarillo lead. In the 1920 figures all but 554 of Abilene's population were included in that description and all but 995 of Amarillo's.

Brownsville and Laredo has the fewest negroes—the figures being forty-nine for Brownsville and forty-one for Laredo.

Iu 1920 Texas had 2,430,715 potential voters—potential in the sense that they were 21 years old or over. In that year 811,104 persons actually voted or a fraction more than one-third.

WORST FLOOD IN HISTORY HOUSTON RAGING FRIDAY

HOUSTON, May 31. (AP)—Houston today was in the grip of what was described as the worst flood in the city's history and paradoxically was threatened with a water famine. The central water plant was paralyzed by the raging waters of Buffalo Bayou, hundreds of homes in many sections of the city was standing in water or swept downstream, many business buildings were inundated, and streams still were rising.

Property damage will run into the millions before the waters subside, it was estimated. The crest was not expected until tonight.

A number of deaths by drowning were feared, but none had been reported. Officers rescued eight persons.

The damage was done by three bayous, usually drowsy little creeks, which flow through the city. They are Buffalo, White Oak and Bray's Bayous.

Other South Texas points shared the flood menace with Houston.

Brazos Three Miles Wide

The angry Brazos was three miles wide opposite Navasota and was sweeping down upon Fort Bend county and the prison farms in the Brazos bottoms.

The river was out of its banks along the lower reaches of the Ramsey farm, backing the water up the sloughs. By noon half the farm was expected to be under water. The 628 prisoners were being transferred to box cars 10 miles east of the farm.

The Imperial farm shifted its prisoners to higher ground. The Brazos had swept over the oil fields near Sugarland.

A southbound Santa Fe train, due in Navasota at 7 o'clock this morning, was reported lost. No word had been received of it since it left Somerville, about 75 miles north.

Big Building Endangered.

The brick walls of the five story Scanlan building on Buffalo Bayou were cracking and all persons were ordered out of that building and the new $1,000,000 farmers market.

Fearing that the flood waters might cut the city in two an ambulance company dispatched ambulances across the bayous to care for the injured there if that should come to pass.

C. W. McPhail, chief of police, ordered all except three bridges over Buffalo bayou closed because of the weakened foundations of the 15 other structures.

The main business section of Houston was the scene of one downtown traffic jam after another as a result of the flood. All policemen were in the flood areas attempting to steer traffic away from the high waters and no one was left to direct traffic on Main street. The traffic lights were not used.

People were able to see snakes in the business section. A large number of snakes, most of them rattlers, were carried downstream by the swift current.

Water Cut Off

At noon the entire business section of Houston, with the exception of that supplied by private wells, was practically without water.

Mayor Walter E. Monteith asked owners of private wells to turn their water into the city mains.

At one of the six substations left to furnish the supply after the main plant had been stopped the machinery was breaking fast due to the heavy strain on the plant.

The health department issued instructions that all drinking water be boiled because of danger of pollution.

Houston Suffers Flood Damage

HOUSTON, May 31.—(AP)—Three ordinarily sluggish bayous were raging torrents today as the full force of Texas' mammoth flood swept down on Houston, bringing great property loss to scores of residents and businesses. Possibility of a water shortage was an added menace. The strong current of Buffalo Bayou crashed windows of the Central Water Station early today and inundated machinery. The plant was shut down and the whole burden of supplying the city with water was placed on the substations.

The city water pressure at 9 a. m., was 14 pounds. It should be 60 pounds. House stressed the danger of fire.

The six substations have a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons daily while Houston's normal consumption is between 21,000,000 and 25,000,000 gallons.

James H. B. House, water commissioner, stated the city was facing a "serious condition" and appealed to citizens to be sparing in their use of water.

Three or four houses were swept downstream but it was thought the occupants had been warned in time to get to safety. Homes in many sections of the city were flooded and residents were fleeing to higher ground and taking their furniture out in boats.

Business Houses Flooded

Water was pouring into the wholesale and produce houses in the market section of the city near the edge of the Buffalo Bayou. Three stories of one building had been flooded, and the sign of another was all that could be seen.

Practically the entire city engineering force and police department were at work throughout the night, the former trying to protect the water supply and the latter issuing warnings at the bridges, most of which was covered with swiftly moving water.

Gulf Coast trains to Beaumont and International-Great Northern trains north were detoured over Southern Pacific Lines. Water from Cypress creek covered about a mile of I-G-N track near Spring in the north part of the county and officials were unable to estimate how much damage was done. The water was about 6 feet deep.

The Houston East and West Texas tracks were submerged for about a mile north of Humble.

The San Jacinto river was reported 30 feet above normal there and was still rising Friday morning.

Homes Washed Away

Two homes were washed away by the rising waters. Several animals were drowned.

The Houston police department pressed into service an emergency boat and motor mounted on wheels to rescue persons marooned. It made its first rescue last night, taking a 20-year-old youth off the roof of one of the stables at the Armory of the 56th Cavalry Brigade, National Guard. The water stood ten feet deep in the Armory building.

It was reported that Lynchburg was threatened with destruction as the swollen streams emptied into the San Jacinto river. Practically all telephone lines between Lynchburg and Houston were out.

Great havoc was wrought in the turning basin. The water flowed over one dock, flooding a warehouse and continued to rise. The current, so swift that boats were unable to navigate the channel under their own power, presented a steady danger to all craft in the channel. A house was floating in the middle of the basin.

The crest of flood waters was not expected to be reached in Houston until tonight.

Several Are Rescued

A woman and three children were rescued from their water soaked home by two officers.

The rescuers waded and swam the swollen waters of White Oak Bayou for about 40 feet to the house. They found the four standing on a small table, anxiously watching the creeping waters climb closer toward their feet.

Three tramps, trapped by rising waters early today while they were asleep underneath a bridge, were rescued by officers. They were awakened by the waters of Buffalo Bayou surging over them. They shouted for help as they started swimming and the officers threw out a line and pulled them to safety.

Lynchburg Submerged.

HOUSTON, May 31.—(AP)—Lynchburg was submerged today. The 200 residents of that town, about 20 miles from Houston, sat on a hillside about a quarter of a mile away and watched the water flow through their homes and business houses.

The residents fled as the swollen San Jacinto river swept over the town.

Floods Sweep Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 31.—(AP)—Lowlands in many sections of Oklahoma were under water today following Memorial day downpours. Heavy damage was done to crops, in many cases replanted after the last high water. There was little other damage, however, and danger of serious floods appeared small.

Reports from various parts of the state today indicated swollen rivers and creeks were receding, but at the same time care reports of additional rains.

SIGNS OF IRREGULARITY CREEPING OVER INDUSTRY AND TRADE OVER NATION

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Bradstreet's Saturday said:

There is more irregularity in trade and, to perhaps a lesser extent, in industry. Summer weather has given a needed stimulus to retail trade in wearing apparel.

On the other hand, wholesale and jobbing trade seems to reflect an increase in conservatism as regards future buying.

In industry, also, there are more signs of irregularity, in that, while the metal-producing and consuming trades, led by iron and steel, continue, as a rule, at a high rate of speed, building and allied trades show more effects of the high rates for loans, and leading textiles and some few other lines, note qaieting down on various degrees. Taken as a whole, future trade is about on a par with a year ago, retail distribution is still better than last year, and industry, factory lines particularly, though quieter than of late, still are in the lead in the matter of gain over he like period a year ago.

GRADUATION OF ODD FELLOWS HOME SCHOOL FRIDAY

Commencement exercises for the graduating class of the I. O. O. F. Home high school, the awarding of numerous cash and other prizes to various students and the formal presentation of diplomas by Barry Miller, Dallas, lieutenant-governor of Texas and grand master of the Texas I. O. O. F., were held at the auditorium of the school Friday evening at 8 o'clock. A. M. Blackman, high school supervisor of the state department of education, Austin, delivered the class address. A number of the high officials of the I. O. O. F. lodge were on hand.

In the beginning of his remarks Mr. Blackman stated that he had seen the heart and soul of Odd Fellowship and the spirit that actuates that order at the Home Friday. He referred to the great educational institutions in Texas—how the people of Texas spend much money for education, has $180,000,000 invested in school buildings and plants; pays the 40,000 teachers $45,000,000 yearly; has 1,250,000 students in the schools; and sends out 25,000 high school graduates annually. He declared that the entire school expenditure in Texas yearly aproximated $60,000,000.

Just Starting Life

Directing his remarks to the members of the class, Mr. Blackman stated that he had rather be a member of that class than to be John D. Rockefeller, Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison or President Hoover as the men named were on the descinding side of life while the graduates were just beginning their lives. He declared that there was plenty of adventure and opportunity in the world, although practically all of the exploration of territories had been completed. The fields of inventions, electricity, medicine, transportation, government and education present plenty of work and opportunity for leadership and changes. He stressed the fact that only a people can advance who are educated.

In the presentation of the diplomas to the graduates, Grand Master Miller advised the boys and girls that he was the spokesman of 40,000 Odd Fellows in presenting them their diplomas who were with them were interested in their welfare. He said that their paths would not be all sunshine, but that when adversity came, that they could still go to the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs for help and comfort who were with them still even if they were leaving the I. O. O. F. Home here.

Badly Run-Down

"Six years ago, I was very much run-down," says Mrs. Olympia Kight, of Lovett, Ga. "I did not sleep well, and was weak and restless. I dragged around the house with not enough strength to do my daily tasks. I worried a lot, and this disturbed state of mind reacted on my health.

"I had often read of Cardui, so I thought I would try it. I soon began to improve after I had taken Cardui for a while.

"It was astonishing how much I picked up. I slept better; my appetite improved, and that awful dragging-down feeling left me. I was so much better that I continued taking Cardui until I felt perfectly well."

Cardui has been used by women for over 50 years.

Youth Prevents Wreck When He Flags Train

GAINESVILLE, June 1.—(AP)—Anton Hermes, 18-year-old boy residing eight miles west of here, received the plaudits of the crew and passengers of eastbound Missouri-Kansas-Texas train No. 32 yesterday when he flagged the train and probably prevented a disastrous wreck, after ballast had been washed from beneath track by a torrential rain.

Charles Marsters, engineer of the train, said here today that although he got safely over the section of track affected after being flagged by the boy, it was very probable an accident had been averted by the boy's action.

"My! you look lovely to-night"

SHE knew the compliment to be true—for the last pimple had vanished.

If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you must realize that the logical cause may come from the blood.

A clear, smooth, velvety skin bespeaks loveliness. Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. Hope, joy, happiness, and even love, may depend on the possession of a clear, unblemished skin.

On the other hand—skin eruptions are outward evidences of the condition within. Authorities state it is an indication that the body's power of resistance to disease and infection is low. Meaning, that there is a deficiency of red - blood - cells.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and you sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to diseases.

S.S.S. is Nature's own tonic for improving the appetite, building strength, and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, by increasing the red-cells of the blood.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test of over 100 years.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

TEN LIVES TOLL OF WEEK OF FLOODS IN STREAMS OF TEXAS

HOUSTON AND BEAUMONT LATEST DISTRICTS ADDED TO DANGER AREA

DALLAS, June 1. (AP)—Ten lives have been claimed by the South and East Texas' worst flood. Three none identified, drowned yesterday.

A messenger boy rode his bicycle too close to the swirling currents in the streets of Houston and was swept away. His body was believed by authorities to have been carried into the basement of some nearby building.

An onlooker, horrified at the tragedy, fell into the water a few feet away and met a like fate.

At Fort Worth a negro boy swimming in the high water of the Trinity was carried under. Police used 125 sticks of dynamite in a futile effort to bring the body to the surface. The river was 12 feet above normal but was not out of banks.

Seven persons lost their lives earlier in the week.

Many Buildings Flooded

The Houston and Beaumont districts received the brunt of the gulf-bound water. Hundreds of Houston homes and buildings were flooded, and the damage was estimated at millions of dollars.

A levy which broke in Madison county flooded 10,000 acres in Houston county and relieved the situation somewhat in Madison county. More high water, however, was due in Madison county today down Dedias creek, one of the largest streams in the county.

The Trinity and San Jacinto rivers flooded 10,000 acres near Cold Spring in San Jacinto county.

Buffalo Bayou, which flooded portions of Houston, passed its crest last night, and barring further rain, it should be back in its channel tonight, according to L. H. Daingerfield, U. S. meterologist.

Cuts Houston in Two

The Bayou cuts Houston in two, and only four bridges of 15 were open. The few trains running were late, and highways were either blocked or in such poor condition that travel was slow.

Houston city water pressure was low as the central plant was flooded, sub stations and wells provided city water.

Shipping was at a standstill in the channel, and the movement of vessels was halted. Water covered two docks and flooded several warehouses nearby.

The highway to Beaumont was closed as an approach of the San Jacinto river bridge was washed away. Beaumont itself was cut off from through traffic in all directions. The Old Spanish Trail to Orange was one of the last roads to be covered with water. Residents along that road moved ahead of the water and camped at the South Texas State Fair ground. Relief trucks from Beaumont carried supplies to Orange county refugees.

Big Bridge Endangered

The Neches river bridge between Beaumont and Orange was watched and 30,000 sandbags were on hand for emergency use to protect it. The Orange-Port Arthur ferry was operated continuously to accommodate traffic unable to get over the highways.

A ferry at Lynchburg was halted, and fear was expressed the boat might be washed away.

Water at Beaumont was 5.4 feet above flood level, and Pine Island Bayou was reported rising rapidly. Village creek was going down at Fletcher, near Beaumont.

The towns of Lynchburg, Katy, Clodine and Gaston were in the midst of lakes. The residents either used boats or had moved to dry land. At Clodien, the bayou was said to be 10 miles wide.

Ferry Is Only Traffic Opening

PORT ARTHUR, June 1.—(AP)—The Port Arthur-Orange ferry today was hard pressed to transport a huge line of automobiles across the only available Neches river crossing from the Old Spanish Trail into Beaumont.

With the link between Beaumont and Orange under water, traffic east of Orange and west from Beaumont was routed over the ferry. A large bridge to replace the ferry, which has long outlived its ability to serve traffic, is to be submitted to voters.

As the crest of the flood neared today, there was no danger of that it would enter Port Arthur. Lake Sabine on the edge of Port Arthur served as a reservoir, collecting the flood waters of the Neches and Sabine rivers.

Houston Flood Is Rapidly Receding

HOUSTON, June 1.—(AP)—Flood waters in Buffalo Bayou receded today after the ordinarily peaceful stream had gone on a rampage yesterday and caused damage of unestimated millions of dollars to business houses, homes, bridges and roads in Houston and vicinity.

Officers today discounted reports that two persons, a telegraph messenger boy and a man, both identified had drowned. Officer D. E. Drennan reported that a messenger boy while trying to ride his bicycle across a bridge had fallen into the swift current. The boy was carried into a business building downstream. Drennan said he dragged the youth from the water and sent him home. Another officer said he had made a thorough search of the place where the man was said to have fallen into the swift current and that he found no body.

Repeated warnings to boil all drinking water were issued by city health authorities today. The order followed the flooding of the central water plant. All down town firms with private wells turned their water supply into the city's lines. The danger of fire persisted today.

Only slight damage was caused by the flood waters at the turning basin, port officials said. Several docks were flooded but no wharves were swept away.

Goose Creek was isolated today by high water. An airplane left Houston with a supply of butter for residents there.

About fifteen blocks of the town of Wharton were covered with water from the Colorado river which still was rising. Despite the fact that the water was within a half block of the public square the situation was not considered dangerous.

Searching Waters.

Despite reports that no one had drowned in Buffalo Bayou, a search of the waters was made this afternoon.

The Southern Air Transport company of Fort Worth sent every available plane here to take passengers to New Orleans after train service to that city had been interrupted. Southern Pacific trains between here and New Orleans were routed over the Santa Fe tracks via the Bolivar Ferry and Galveston.

The Houston East and West Teas railroad to Livingston, Nacogdoches and Shreveport remained tied up. Trains on most of the other lines were running late, hampered by detours and washouts.

Crest at Lynchburg.

The crest of the flood on Buffalo Bayou was in the vicinity of Lynchburg and the San Jacinto battleground, where the bayou converges with the San Jacinto river. The water was receding upstream from Houston around Katy and Clodine.

At the San Jacinto Inn the waters had crept up until the building was surrounded. The town of Lynchburg was still inundated. The ferry houses were covered with water and the whole region was described as one giant lake flowing toward the bay.

The isolated tri-city area, Goose Creek, Baytown and Pelley, was threatened with a food shortage. Some thirty persons were clustered about the airport waiting for planes to bring them to Houston. Preparations were being made to "outlive" the flood.

Prison officials at Huntsville were informed the Ferguson farm farm were under water.

Water Commissioner Against "Bath Night"

HOUSTON, June 1.—(AP)—James H. B. House, Houston water commissioner, today advised citizens of this flood swept city to dispense with the regular Saturday night bath or else use a sponge.

"I don't like to discourage bathing and cleanliness," House said, "but we need the water." The central water plant was put out of commission by the flood waters.

Cases Whiskey Among Rescues at Houston

HOUSTON, June 1.—(AP)—Water was not the only liquid which swept down the swollen Buffalo Bayou here during the present flood. One of the rescues reported was that of two cases of supposedly Sunnybrook whisky.

The liquor was washed out of some store basement.

Several business men, wading in the water in an attempt to salvage their goods, saw the cases simultaneously.

A mad scramble resulted, two of the business men falling down in the rush. Three reached the prize at the same time and decided to split it.

River Forecasts By Weather Bureau

HOUSTON, June 1. —(AP)— The Houston weather bureau today issued the following river forecast:

The Brazos will fall to somewhat below Washington; the crest will reach Hempstead late today or tonight at about 44 feet, present stage 42.1 feet; rise at Rosenberg to a crest of 44 and 46 feet Monday or Monday night, present stage 39.2 feet and rising with heavy flood downstream for several days thereafter.

Trinity river slightly above 43 feet at Long Lake today; rise slowly below for next three days with crest stage of 47 to 48 feet at Riverside and will rise at Liberty to a crest of 28.5 feet in about two days; yesterday's stage 27.5 feet.

The Neches wil come to a stand at Rockland tomorrow between 27 and 28 feet, present stage 26.8 feet, and will reach second highest crest on record of about 13 feet at Beaumont probably late tomorrow or tomorrow night, present stage 12.3 feet; flood stage at Beaumont 7 feet.

The Sabine crest should pass Logansport tomorrow slightly under flood, present stage 22.3 feet. Will pass Bon Wier next three or four days between 20 and 21 feet, present stage 19.5 feet and flood stage 20 feet and will rise slowly at Orange for several days to a crest somewhat above flood.

Railroad Washed Out.

NACOGDOCHES June 1.—(AP)—This section was cut off from Houston and Beaumont today as the result of bad washouts on the Houston East & West Texas railroad and the Texas & New Orleans railroad. Trains were expected to be run over these two roads within the next 24 hours.

Beaumont District Almost Isolated

BEAUMONT, June 1.—(AP)—Only airplane transportation and the Santa Fe railway by way of Galveston remained available for travel between Beaumont and Houston today. Waters of the Neches, Trinity and Brazos rivers continued to rise.

Westbound trains over the Southern Pacific and the Missouri Pacific railroads were stopped here. Train service east was barely possible.

A section of the Kansas City Southern's track near Vidor, six miles east of Beaumont, was washed out, and Missouri Pacific trains were stopped at Mauriceville. Passengers were transferred to the Kansas City Southern and brought here over the Southern Pacific through Orange.

No trains had come in from Houston over the Missouri Pacific or the Southern Pacific since Friday night.

Beside carrying passengers, airplanes were used to deliver newspapers and yeast to East Texas from which the bread supply had been cut off.

Six hundred men were thrown out of employment when plants of the Pennsylvania shipwards, the Petroleum Iron Works and the International Creosoting company were forced to close down by high water.

The Neches river today reached a stage of 14 feet, one and half inches, a half inch below the recor stage of 1884. The stream was expected to recede this afternoon.

WILL CHANGE TERMINAL.

MEXICO CITY, June 3.—(AP)—Reliable sources here announce that the Mexican Aviation company is moving ts terminal from Brownsville to some point in the interior of Texas. W. L. Morrison, traffic manager, who expects to fly to Brownsville today, said the company nad no statement to make now, but would make an announcement on June 12.

Wheat Prices Jump.

CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)—A jump of nearly 9c a bushel in wheat prices took place in a sudden buying rush during which next to nothing was for sale. The immediate cause of the lightning upward flight of values was Washington reports that implied quick passage of farm legislation with $100,000,000 made available at once for action to help lift the wheat market.

Opening 1 3-4c to 8 3-4c up. Wheat was quoted at about 5c above Saturday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions also advanced, but kept within relatively moderate limits. With corn starting 3-4c to 3 3-4c higher and afterward showing some further gains.

Wheat closed nervous, 5 3-8 to 6 1-8 net higher, corn 3 7-8 to 4 3-8, oats 1 3-8 to 1 3-4 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1c.

STRAIGHT HOLE DRILLING SUBJECT PAPER BY LOCAL CONTRACTOR BEFORE A. P. I.

TULSA, May 29.—(SI)—"Straight hole drilling," a few months ago an unheard of and unthought of term in the oil industry, comes easy for Fred M. Allison, Corsicana, Texas, drilling contractor, who declares that proper attention and a small amount of special equipment is all that is required to secure a perfect hole.

The Corsicana contractor has recently completed four wells on a lease near Maud, Oklahoma, in the Seminole area, one of them being perfect and the other varying from one and a half to two and a half feet variation from the true perpendicular, testing to the bottom of a 4160 feet hole.

When retrenchment became necessary in the oil industry, first attention was paid to production activities and wells that were costing too much to produce their quota of oil, in many cases, were abandoned; engineers of various corporations began an investigation of the unreasonable costs, and found that much of it was due to crooked holes, that ate up tubing, rods. In many field wells that were good producers were abandoned because of the exorbitant cost of operating and maintaining them.

Depression Causes Experiments

When the months of the depression period lengthened into years, the industry as a whole became concerned with this problem, and some of the leaders began to experiment with the drilling problem, in the hope of finding some method of drilling better holes, from a production standpoint. Little hope was held out to them, however, for a "perfect" hole was almost unheard of and was generally regarded as a freak. This new development found the industry without even proven methods of testing the variation of a hole.

However this handicap was soon overcome and long before it was badly needed the acid method of measuring was developed. By this prosess a small bottle of hyrofluoric acid is placed in a bailer or joint of drill pipe and lowered into the hole to a certain depth where any variation from its original position will be etched on the glass container. In the beginning the acid container has been packed in such a manner that no movement is possible within the bailer or drill pipe. This step is repeated at various depths until the entire shaft has been checked.

Various well were checked by the company engineers and variation up to an unofficial record of 797 feet. This immediately turned the attention of the major companies to drilling operations, for not only were the crooked holes costing too much to operate but the initial cost was far more than it should have been, when the total cost per foot to drill a well ran to approximately $10.

Seeks Perfect Holes.

Some months ago the Barnsdall corporation, one of the largest producers in the Oklahoma and North Texas fields, conceived the idea of attempting to drill some "straight holes." Since the Oklahoma fields were under restricted drilling rules, there was no rush about the wells and the matter of time was left entirely up to he contractor, whose only order was to get as nearly a perfect hole as possible.

Four contractors were put to work on these tests, Mr. Allison's drilling record for the company giving him two wells to drill making a total of five wells put down on the same lease, known for these descriptive purposes as the Smith lease. The two wells drilled by Mr. Allison showed variations of 2.4 feet and 1.42 feet when measured down 4160 feet, including both standard and rotary work. The nearest well to him in perfection was 34.34 feet, while one of the tests was off approximately 185 feet. To prove Mr. Allison's method, two more wells were drilled, one showing 1.54 feet off, and the other none.

Asked to Present Paper

As a result of his extraordinary success in drilling straight holes, the Corsicana contractor was invited to present a paper before the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute, Division of Production and Drilling, on May 28-29 at Tulsa, Okla. The paper was based on his reply to a questionnaire sent out by the A. P. I. on the subject of straight holes.

Six factors, all within reach of every contractor, are credited by Mr. Allison for his almost miraculous success in the straight hole tests. They are: A crew with ability and sold on the drilling of straight holes; a straight start; a small amount of special equipment for preventing side-sway; the proper thickness of mud; proper weight on the bit at all times; and the proper speed of rotation.

The Corsicana contractor does not claim to have the only method for drilling straight holes, but asserts that he has one that delivers the goods, and is inexpensive to initiate and continue. A brief digest of his methods as explained in the answers to the questionnaire and presented at the Tulsa meeting follows:

The Crews.

Only a thoroughly trained crew alert, and 'sold" on the ideas of drilling straight holes should be used, with one driller who knows the field and conditions in charge of regulating the mud. Every member of the crew must be experienced and willing to do his part.

According to Mr. Allison, the tool-pusher, once regarded as nothing more than a "junk hustler" but who is now in charge of all drilling operations should be elevated to the rank of drilling supervisor. He should be capable of directing the operations of one or more rigs, and able to point out the mistakes made as they occur and aid in correcting them. He should have more experience and a better head than even the driller.

The driller certainly should be a leader, a thinker, and a man capable of handling his machinery under all kinds of conditions.

The Straight Start.

Next in importance to the driller upon whom the fate of the hole rests constantly, is the proper start for the holes. Every precaution must be taken to start the well off right and on center.

Without question the derrick should be properly constructed and leveled. The next step is locating the center of the derrick. The Allison method measures up each derrick leg a distance of four feet driving staples at this point; strings are then stretched diagonally across the derrick floor, with a plub bob at the intersection, naturally the center of the floor. At this point with the bob still in place the rotary table is is set up so that it is in the exact center. The traveling block is then strung up with a bob from the swivel hook, and the crown block is shifted on the water table of the derrick until the bob hangs over the center of the rotary table, making it possible to keep the entire drilling operation in line.

Mr. Allison urged the use of the standard A. P. I. opening of five feet, six inces in the clear, pointing out that where the opening is smaller than this a driller will often encounter difficulties in lining up his traveling block correctly. He also urged that more digging be done for the foundation of the derrick and less building up.

Start is Simple.

In the usual spudding in process there is some danger that the swivel and hose is likely to pull the kelly off plub; to avoid this a ring with four eye holes is placed about the kelly joint with sufficient clearance to allow the kelly to rotate. In each of these eye holes a wire line and turnbuckle, fastened to each derrick leg, and the kelly is adjusted to a vertical position by the turn buckles, using a spirit level as standard. These guides and turn buckles are lowered from section of the derrick from time to time allowing about eight feet of hole to be made for each change.

By this series of operations a total of 52 feet of straight hole is secured, and the swivel is attached to the roary; he bit is pulled out and a lace joint (a joint of 10 inch casing welded over a joint of six inch drill stem) is inserted in the string immediately above the special design triple three-point roller bearing guide that is attached to the rock bit, and with this lineup sufficient hole is made to set surface pipe.

After the hole is washed clean and the casing run, it is brought to the perpendicular by use of a spirit level, and cribbed to the floor, so that when the elevators are released, the pipe will remain in its upright position without possibility of side sway.

Carrying out the before described process entails the spending of about one more day on spudding in than under ordinary conditions, but the results more than justify the expenditure.

Special Equipment.

In addition to the weight indicators which form an essential part of the equipment for drilling a straight hole, the Corsicana contractor makes use of a few items described by "special design" which means that they are so bored that they will allow a 2 1-2 inch lubricator to pass through them with sufficient water area to equal the hole in the top of the rock bit, and enabling the use of heavy drill collars near the bit.

A special triple three-point hole guide, designed and patented by Mr. Allison and made up by one of the leading oil well machinery concerns, is one of the items of special equipment. In addition to aiding in the guidance of the bit, this guide also serves to wall up the hole.

Drill collars of extra heavy design and made up in lengths ranging from three to ten feet, are used to aid in the prevention of kinking in the bottom joints, a serious problem in the past. The collars have a passage way for a lubricator.

Another part of the special equipment is a double three-point reamer with cutting edges, that serves to smooth off all projections in a hole, and even the surface. Two of these are used close together with a lace joint between them.

The general rotary equipment in use today is believed to be quite capable of producing straight holes, a pump of the average size, 12x6 3-4 x16, is recommended, and 100 horsepower boilers with a 250-pound working pressure is favored. No need is seen for increasing the size or weights of the present drill stem.

Thickness of Mud.

Under ordinary conditions mud of ten to twelve pounds per gallon thickness is recommended for drilling in the Greater Seminole area, with a maximum of 14 to 16 for excessive gas pressure.

The mud fluid has a number of duties to perform and a proper weight is regarded as a great aid in drilling straight holes; and this weight should be secured by the time the 1500 foot level is reached. Proper mud aids in holding up and walling the sides of the hole, carries the cutting of the bit away, and too thick or too thin fluid might have disastrous consequences in any situation.

One of the most serious problems encountered in the Seminole area is rainfall and the shutdown evil. Often a sharp shower will put sufficient water in the slush pit to materially thin the mixture, resulting in the consant danger of caving. A shutdown often has the same result, and all of these factors must be taken into consideration by the tool pusher and drillers.

Weight on Bit.

No set amount of weigh is prescribed for drilling a sraight hole, but the weight on the bit will vary with the formation encountered, just enough being carried to insure even cutting.

A maximum limit of 10,000 pounds has been set, with the minimum reaching as low as 2,000 pounds, according to the requirements of the formation.

Speed of Rotation.

Again the formation which the bit encounters is the determining factor when the speed of rotation is determined. High speed rotation is apt to cause serious side play in the drill stem that will inevitably result in a crooked hole.

With the set up used by the Corsicana driller, using the special drill collars, triple three-point guides, and double three-point reamers with their connecting lace joints, a total of 86 feet of almost perfectly rigid stem is provided immediately above the rockbit, and will allow some additional speed, but the formation must determine it for the most part.

In some formations too slow a speed will not produce results and too much speed seems to merely glaze the surface, while the proper speed will insure the bit cutting at a regular rate, and producing the best results.

Cones.

When cones become dull and require additional weight to cut the same amount in a formation in which they were started, Mr. Allison advises pulling the bit and replacing with new cones; excessive weight is thought to have a crushing effect on the cones, and naturally a hole that is not quite as true as it would be under other conditions.

Taking a specific example, in two wells drilled that were straight used 11 more sets of cones in drilling 7592 feet than were used in crooked holes, with the cones in the crooked holes having an average of 19 feet more cuttage.

Time Element.

Although time is by no means the most important it is of great value in putting down wells, particularly in competition.

However, in drilling a straight hole the extra time usually required in spudding in is more than regained in the round trips into the hole where no trouble is encountered due to fewer curves, and better conditions generally.

Comparing the records of four wells drilled in the Maud field it is found that a total of 69 1-2 days were required to set eight and a quarter inch casing on the crooked holes, while four days less were required to set in the two straight holes, and the difference in the daily footage was negligible.

Considerable time is also saved in the straight holes, in the shorter distance it is necessary to penetrate in order to reach a given formation or seat for casing.

General Suggestions—Conclusions.

Although steam is the only power that has been tried out under the new plan of drilling for straight holes, no difficulty is foreseen in using any other power, since none is more suited than the other for drilling purposes.

Automatic drilling feed control is not considered superior to the old manual control in drilling for straight holes; the automatic requires a large amount of technical knowledge on the part of the driller to keep the device in operation and adjusted for the various requirements. A break in the parts of the control is also likely to allow the full weight of the drill stem to fall on the bit suddenly and cause a twist-off and bad fishing job. The high cost of the machines is also against their use.

Companies are warranted in expecting their contractors in a known field to dill reasonably straight holes, since practically all of them have sufficient knowledge of the formations to be able to anticipate any trouble. Straight holes are no more expensive to the contractor and are economic necessities to the operation of the companies.

In drilling the four straight hole tests, Mr. Allison's method was put to almost every demand which might be encountered in any test. The angles of the various formations offered no difficulty in keeping the hole straight, when care was taken in entering the strata to secure a smooth cutting sufarce before the maximum weight was placed on the bit, since excessive weigh would have given the bit a tendency to slide to one side or the other.

In drilling the last well in which no variation was found, two hard-rainstorms filled the slushpits with water and resulted in two bad caves in that test. But the efficacy of the eighty-six feet of rigid connecions proved its value in these instances, causing the bit to stand out of the cave in a true vertical with the hole above up the caves, rebuilding the walls, and continuing on its true course.

Insures Longer Life.

The general adoption of certain regulations and limits required in the drilling of straight holes is expected to relieve in a large measure the terrific strain usually placed on a rig insuring longer life for the equipment.

The appended table will show in concrete form the results of the tests conducted by the Barnsdall Corporation. The additional cost to the company is based on the following scale: Contract price of $7 per foot for hole, eight and a quarter inch casing at $1.80, and six and five-eights casing at $1.29. The added cost does not include fuel and wter which in many areas runs about $1.50 per foot.

A firm of independent petroleum engineers checked the operations in the various tests on this lease, and none of the contractors knew the results until their tests had been finally completed, when the variations were announced from the offices of the Barnsdall Corporation. The same engineering staff maintained check over all the wells.

The total attendance in the Sunday School was 508 last Sunday 433 corresponding Sunday one year ago 476.

In the adult department of the Sunday school, A. A. Allison, superintendent, presided and made the principal talk of the hour, Mr. Allison in his talk stressed the observance of law, both of man and God. J. L. Halbert led the devotional, Mrs. T. P. McLendon presided at the piano and Boyce Martin made announcements about the workers council and dmen's banquet.

In the Weiler Bible class S. W. Burdine presided, Captain Thomas made the principal address, Beauford Jester introduced the speaker and class voted unanimously to meet with Captain Thomas in the Salvation Army headquarters Sunday afternoon June 17th at four o'clock in a farewell service by the captain. The attendance in this class was 31, one year ago 27.

At the morning church hour Edward F. Hearn, choir director, sang a solo "Who Could It Be," the choir sang an anthem, "Praise Ye the Lord," by Baines, Dr. Culver preached his regular monthly sermon to children from the subject, "Words Made Flesh," communion was observed and a special collection was taken to defray hospital expenses for Rev. G. W. Kincheloe who had been in the hospital for the past two weeks. Rev. Kincheloe was reported as being better and as having been moved to his home.

At the night church hour Dr. Culver preached from the subject, "What Is Your Life," the choir sang an anthem, "I Waited for the Lord."

HUSTLE TO BE WATCHWORD SECOND CALL SESSION OF TEXAS LEGISLATIVE BODY

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 3.—(AP)—The 41st legislature starts down the home stretch today. It will enter upon its 99th day of legislating since it was convened on January 8.

"Hustle, boys, hustle," is the newest slogan, as leaders express hope that the appropriation bills will be passed, the highway department provided for financially and other unfinished business carried over from the regular and first called session wound up within the 30-day period allotted to extraordinary sessions by the constitution.

Incidentally, it will be Governor Moody's final whack at the legislature, if he retires after having rounded out two terms as chief executive at the beginning of 1931.

This contemplation brings to the surface a quiet movement that has been begun by some of the governor's friends.

In event the constitution is amended in the special election of July 16 to permit a governor to draw a salary of $10,000 annually, instead of $4,000 as at present, a number of the governor's friends are planning to make an effort at persuading him in standing for a third term.

They point out that a term in the governor's office at a salary of $10.-000 annually ought to permit the young chief executive to recover his private fortune.

Governor Moody has lived within his income, probably better than any of his predecessors, but like the others he finds it necessary to pledge his credit for living expenses not provided by the constiution. He gets some allowances for servants at the executive mansion, but isn't permitted to buy groceries with any except his own money. The hired help must eat and this expense must come out of the $4,000 annual salary!

Governor Moody, as everyone knows, was just starting out on his own hook when he became attorney general, then governor. He will have lost six years, given to his state, at the most crucial time in his life of one who is starting out at the rather severe task of establishing himself in the law.

It is this situation that has started the "third term" talk among the governor's friends. They have not discussed it with him, but they will tell you frankly that if Texas decides to pay its governor $10,000 annually they are going to try to get Dan Moody to stand for another term.

There are some other friends, not in on the third term movement, who say that when the news leaks out and the governor hears about it, he will quench it beyond all revival. They argue that he is too orthodox in his democracy to consider a third term.

Twins Have Day In Wills Point School This Year

WILLS POINT, June 3.—(SP)—This appears to have been a good year for twins in the Wills Point schools. There were three sets of twins in the class that graduated from the grammar school and one set in the class that graduated from the high school. Those in grammar school are all girls, they were Adele and Adine Wright; Dorris and Dorothy Harris and Goldie and Celia Boshea. NEW TEAGUE POWER AND LIGHT PLANT TO COST MORE MONEY

TEAGUE, June 3.—(Spl).—At a regular meeting of the city council of Teague, T. D. Conner, representing Fairbanks-Morse & C., appeared before the council with the proposition that the electric light and power house to be constructed in this city by his company would cost $10,000 more than formerly thought. Thus the new contract price would have to be $115,000 instead of $105,000.

The raise in price was asked for the reason stated by Mr. Conner, that higher poles, larger wire and a larger plant, it has been found by a re-check of Teague's requirements, than was originally planned would be necessary.

The raise in price was accepted by the council.
